SINCLAIR DEFENSE BADLY BATTERED BY COURT RULING

Judge's Decision That He, Not Jury, Shall Pass on Vital Issue a Serious Set-back to It.

SLURS ON SENATE CHIEF RELIANCE

Effort to Prejudice Jury Against Such Inquiries as That on Which Contempt Charge Is Based.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The trial of Harry F. Sinclair, charged with contempt of the Senate, will be resumed in the District of Columbia Supreme Court Monday morning, with prospects of a verdict by Wednesday night. The millionaire oil magnate and lessee of the Teapot Dome (Wyo.) naval reserve, is accused of deliberately refusing to answer questions put to him by the Walsh committee investigating the leases granted on naval oil reserves by former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall.

The three-day recess was welcome to the defense, which faces the necessity of fortifying a case which has been badly damaged by the adverse rulings of the presiding judge, William Hitz.

The law provides a penalty of $100 to $10,000 fine and imprisonment for a "common jail" of 30 days to one year.

Judge to Pass on Main Issue.

As the case stands now, Justice Hitz will decide the outstanding issue, namely: Were the questions which Sinclair refused to answer pertinent to the inquiry being conducted? The jury will decide whether Sinclair was regularly summoned and sworn, and whether he refused to answer.

No further analysis is needed to show the desperate situation of the defense. One judge of the court had already held, in overruling a demurrer to the indictment of Sinclair that the questions were pertinent, and Justice Hitz has indicated that he concurs in this opinion, although he has consented to hear evidence and argument on it. The defense admits that Sinclair was regularly summoned and sworn, and refused to testify.

Probable Defense. Sinclair's chief hope, therefore, appears to rest on the ability of his attorneys in their final arguments to prejudice the jury against Senate investigations generally, to which end strenuous efforts have been made to create an atmosphere of hostility to the Senate and to its method of conducting inquiries.

Justice Hitz has not definitely announced how much evidence he will permit the defense to hear, although he has strongly indicated that he will limit it to the bare issues which will be left for the jury to determine. He will hear arguments on the pertinency of the questions asked, but not in the jury's presence.

One pertinent question provides sufficient basis for a conviction. Five remain in the indictment. The questions were carefully prepared by Senator Walsh. In advance of the hearing, in anticipation of Sinclair's refusal to answer. The possibility that Justice Hitz will hold all of them impertinent is almost unbelievable.

Sinclair's attorneys, Martin V. Littleton and George P. Hoover, are certain, if permitted, to deliver violent attacks upon the Senate's inquisitorial activities in their addresses to the jury. Littleton, a former member of Congress, is an actor of renown.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 11.—Baltasar Santa Maria, 48 years old, may live with a bullet near his heart. ## GALE IMPEDES RESCUE WORK IN QUAKE AREA

Terrific Wind Blows Down Japanese Refugees' Shelters, Threatening Epidemic.

By the Associated Press. TOKIO, March 11.—Central Japan, recovering slowly from Monday's earthquake, was swept today by a terrific gale. The storm brought renewed hardships in the Tanga district, blowing down many of the hastily erected refugee shelters after the troops had experienced difficulty putting them up.

As relief by sea had been hindered by rough weather, it was feared the gale would further delay help for refugees in the villages along the coast which suffered most in the quake.

Latest earthquake figures compiled by the home office, which are not looked upon as final, gave the number of dead as 2687, with 444 injured. The home office estimated that 10,000 buildings were destroyed.

Relief measures went on steadily despite serious handicaps. The authorities giving particular attention to those in need of medical care. Their next thought was for the thousands compelled to camp out in the cold and snow through the collapse of their homes. Strenuous efforts were made to prevent an epidemic, and to provide food and clothing.

Rice Shipped to Refugees. Immediately after the catastrophe the relief expeditions were hampered by impassable roads and flooded areas. Prior to the gale, however, many of the roads had been repaired, streams had subsided and warmer weather had set in, and reports from inland places indicated hopeful progress was being made in the work of relief.

The Government, announcing that no outside help was necessary, marshaled all its forces, the heads of the various departments working long and hard in an effort to ameliorate the plight of the sufferers. The Government ordered a large quantity of rice shipped at its expense from the Government warehouse at Osaka.

DEPUTY AND MANIC KILLED
Giant Negro Robbers Officers With Insanity Warrant.

By the Associated Press. DANVILLE, Ill., March 11.—A giant Negro madman and a Deputy Sheriff are dead as the result of a pistol fight in the Negro district here last night.

Luke Williams, the Negro, shot and killed Ross Hester, an instant later was killed by a bullet from Joe White, another deputy. The two deputies, with the sheriff and two other deputies, had gone to Williams' home to take him in custody on an insanity warrant. Williams left the room, circled through three other rooms and came back, firing as he entered with a revolver in each hand. Williams was six feet three inches tall and weighed 205 pounds.

TAXICAB METERS TESTED BUT ONCE IN FIVE YEARS

Inquiry in Connection With Fare Increase Discloses Inspection Ordinance Has Not Been Enforced.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, March 11.—El Pomar, the magnificent estate of Spencer Penrose, multimillionaire copper magnate, near Colorado Springs, Colo., is under consideration as the summer White House of 1927.

The Penrose estate includes 120 acres, with every modern convenience, set in an old apple orchard, from which it takes its name. There are servants' quarters, garages, gardens and all details to make the President's party comfortable.

The home of Spanish architecture, with gardens inclosed by a high wall, insuring privacy, is an attraction, and the location is regarded as most desirable. At the foot of Cheyenne Mountain, with a network of fine motor roads, camps, trails, trout streams, golf courses, polo fields, all handy, the estate is held to be unparalleled in the West.

Secretary of the Interior Work, a Colorado man, has been an ardent booster of the plan to take the President to Colorado Springs, since the idea was broached by Clarence C. Hamilton, newspaper publisher and Republican national committeeman for Colorado.

Church Three Miles Away. Rides and walks around in the vicinity of El Pomar. The President and Mrs. Coolidge are members of the Congregational Church and could attend the First Congregational Church in Colorado Springs, three miles away. He is a regular attendant at church services, even through his vacation periods.

GOOD-WILL FLYERS FINISH
THIRD DIVISION OF FLIGHT

Pan-American Airmen to Remain at Rio Janeiro for Three or Four Days.

By the Associated Press. RIO JANEIRO, March 11.—The third division of the 20,000-mile good-will flight of the United States Army Pan-American squadron was completed last yesterday with the arrival of the three American planes at Rio Janeiro.

The planes descended in the harbor near the private pier of the Brazilian President and were greeted by a great crowd of Brazilians and resident Americans. They were welcomed by Mayor Antonio Prado and representatives of the Brazilian Government.

Before leaving Santos at 2 p. m., Major Herbert A. Dargue and Capt. Arthur E. McManieff motored to Sao Paulo to visit the Governor. Accompanied by the United States Consul, they inspected the aviation school.

The squadron will remain for three or four days in Rio Janeiro and then begin the fourth division of the flight which will carry them northward along the Brazilian coast and the coasts of French Guiana, Dutch Guiana, British Guiana, Venezuela and Trinidad.

Fire Destroys Old Church. MEADVILLE, Pa., March 11.—Fire today destroyed the old Stone Methodist Church and damaged Thoburn Chapel, adjoining, which was erected last year at a cost of $125,000. The loss was estimated at $200,000. The church was erected in 1844.

DIES OF BURNS WHEN CLOTHING CAUGHT FIRE

Miss Catherine Pierce, 60, Had Been Cleaning Rugs With Gasoline.

Miss Catherine Pierce, 60 years old, died yesterday at her home, 4198 Lafayette avenue, of burns suffered Tuesday when her clothing became ignited from a paper torch she lighted to illuminate the coal bin in the basement of her home.

She had been cleaning rugs with gasoline, some of which got on her dress. When she went to put coal in the furnace she twisted a newspaper and lighted it in the furnace and was holding the torch over the coal when a spark touched her dress, which burst into flame.

A neighbor, Cyril Aye, 4110 Lafayette, heard her scream and ran to help her, throwing a painter's tarpaulin about her. She was badly burned from her neck to her knees, and lapsed into unconsciousness.

Her sister, Mrs. Susie Richardson, with whom she lived, suffered a paralytic stroke after Miss Pierce's accident and was taken to Deaconess Hospital, where she is reported to be in a serious condition. Another sister survives, Mrs. Annie Caruthers, of Denver.

Miss Pierce's funeral will be at 3 a. m. tomorrow from St. Margaret's Catholic Church to Calvary cemetery.

GOATS GUARD LIQUOR SUPPLY
FOUND IN RAID BY POLICE

When Three Uniformed Policemen Stepped Out of a Police Automobile at 7300 North Broadway

yesterday afternoon, a man stepped into the machine and began to count out paper money. He handed two $5 bills and five $1 bills to the policemen.

"I suppose you're coming to raid my place," he said. "I'm Nathan Amato, and I've been selling whiskey in my kitchen at 7321 Oberbeck avenue. I've been losing money until lately, but if you fellows will lay off of me I can make a little. Come back in 30 days, and there'll be $5 more for each of you."

The policemen let him talk on until he had told his story, then arrested him for attempted bribery. In his house they found several bottles of whiskey and some empty bottles and glasses, but no considerable supply of liquor. Goats are kept at the rear of the house, and under a pile of straw they found tubing leading to a barrel of 30 gallons capacity, containing about five gallons of moonshine. The "goat nest," it appeared, was the source of supply for the kitchen drinkers. Warrants will be asked, on bribery and liquor charges. The policemen were Eddie Schwartz and Glaeser of Angelica Street Station.

LYON MEMORIAL APPROVED
BY CHURCHMAN AND EDUCATOR

Archbishop Gleason and Chancellor Hadley Each Say Project Is Worthy One.

Archbishop Gleason and Chancellor Hadley of Washington University yesterday voiced approval of the proposed memorial to commemorate the capture of Camp Jackson, Confederate post in St. Louis, by Gen. Nathaniel Lyon, in 1861, planned by the triangular plot at the Grand-Lawton-Pine boulevard cutoff. In letters to F. E. Cramer, chairman of the monument association, they declared the project a worthy one and expressed hope that the fund would be liberally subscribed.

A fund of at least $50,000 will be sought in a campaign beginning March 21. Advance subscriptions now total about $11,000. Tentative plans call for an equestrian statue of Gen. Lyon in bronze on a granite base with an ornamental background of marble or granite.

ACCUSED OF MISREPRESENTING
TERMS OF HOTEL LEASEHOLD

Thomas E. Baruchak, 34 years old, of 708 Union boulevard, was arrested yesterday on complaint of Thomas M. Kearns, 4122A, Motherson avenue, who asserted that Baruchak sold him the leasehold of the Imperial Hotel, 4414½ Olive street for $4000, on Feb. 4 last, representing that rental under the lease would be $150 a month, for five years.

Kearns said he paid $3000 in cash and $4000 in notes, and discovered when he received the lease that the rental was $150 a month for the first year, $175 for the second, $200 for the third and $250 thereafter.

Baruchak denied he had misrepresented the terms of the lease, and was released on $1000 bond.

No Means Certain.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 11.—Proposed amendment of the income tax law to restrict the creation of corporations for the purpose of permitting stockholders to escape surtaxes presents a "very difficult problem" and a solution is "by no means certain," Chairman Green of the House Ways and Means Committee, declared today.

Commenting on the recommendation of L. H. Parker, investigator for the joint tax committee of Congress, that the law be tightened in this respect, Green said the difficulty was in finding a solution
"which will be practical and not result in undue hardship on the part of new and small corporations."

Green said the instance cited by Parker of a corporation whose stock is owned entirely by one family and whose net earnings from 1922 to 1925 were $25,000,000, of which only $45,000,000 was distributed as dividends, was well known to Congress.

He added, however, that while this corporation has "one sense been the medium of evasion of sur-taxes by members of the family, it has generally been considered that this was a legal evasion."

"It was well understood by the Ways and Means Committee at the time of the last revision of the revenue law," he asserted, "that this company was not considered by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as being subject to that section of the law, but no change was made which affected it."
The name of the corporation was kept secret in the Parker report, which has not been acted upon by the joint tax committee.

MOTHER OF 7 SMALL CHILDREN SENT TO JAIL

Mrs. Lizzie Winter of East St. Louis Given 30 Days, Fined $500 Under Dry Law.

DANVILLE, Ill., March 11.—Pleading guilty of sale and possession of home brew before Federal Judge Lindley in Federal Court yesterday while her seven small children stood beside her, Mrs. Lizzie Winter, who lives on the Old Pinckneyville road, near East St. Louis, was sentenced to 30 days in Vermillion County jail and fined $200. Relatives took Mrs. Winter's children back to East St. Louis and she went to jail.

Sentence was passed after District Attorney Baker informed Judge Lindley that Mrs. Winter sold home brew to prohibition agents who visited her home.

Fined in Liquor Charge. Robert Dillinger, one of the owners of a roadhouse near Carbondale, was convicted of possession of intoxicating liquor and fined $500. His partner, Charles Clark, was acquitted.

Pleas of guilty were entered on liquor charges and penalties assessed as follows: F. L. Boucher, De Soto, $200 fine and 30-day jail sentence; Peter Bernello, Makanda, 30 days and $200; A. J. Sizemore, Carbondale, 30 days and $300; Thomas Butcher, Carbondale, six months and $500; Andrew Harry, Marissa, 60 days and $500; Russell Brown, Shawneetown, 30 days and $200; Joe Chunn, Negro, East St. Louis, 60 days and $500.

Albrechts Pay $7000 Fines. Fred A. Douglas pleaded guilty of embezzlement of postoffice money order funds and was fined $200.

Henry Albrecht Sr. and Henry Albrecht Jr. of St. Louis, father and son, serving one-year sentences in jail for selling liquor, went from the jail to Federal Building yesterday and paid $7000 in fines assessed against them. Thomas Maher, a bartender in their East St. Louis saloon, has not paid his $500 fine. He is serving a six-months' sentence here.

$20,000,000 WITHIN REACH, INVENTOR, 57, DECIDES TO WED

George Campbell Carson, Bachelor, California Miner, Marries Los Angeles Widow.

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—George Campbell Carson, miner, inventor and potential multimillionaire by virtue of a suit recently decided in his favor by the United States Supreme Court, has ceased to be a matrimonial "hold-out."

Carson, who is 57 years old, married Mrs. Herase M. Gross of Los Angeles yesterday. "I wanted to keep this thing quiet," said Carson as he faced loquacious reporters who traced the couple. The bride said she was 48 years old. Not so long ago, when the Supreme Court held that reverberatory furnaces used by the American Smelting and Refining Co. and other metal producers contained features Carson had invented and patented, without having paid him any royalties, he was placed in a position favorable to collecting some $20,000,000 for patent infringement.

COMMERCE CHAMBER TAKES VOTE ON BRIDGE QUESTION

Referendum of Members, to Serve as Guide for Directors, to Be Completed Next Week.

The Chamber of Commerce is holding what amounts to a referendum of its members on the proposal to exchange uses of Eads and Municipal bridges between the railroad and the city for the guidance of its board of directors in announcing the Chamber's stand on the matter.

The negotiations that resulted in the proposal were initiated by the Chamber under the administration of W. Frank Carter. Two of the Chamber's representatives upon the Citizens' Terminal Committee—J. Lionberger Davis and P. B. Chamberlain—are actively opposing the proposal.

It is expected that the subject will reach the Board of Directors next week.

Mrs. Martha Sappington, 84, Dies. Mrs. Martha E. Sappington, 84 years old, died yesterday of the infirmities of age at the Kirkwood Old Folks' Home, where she had lived for four years. Her husband, Joseph Sappington, a farmer of Ellaville, died 12 years ago. He was descended from a family of early settlers of St. Louis County, for whom the town of Sappington was named. Mrs. Sappington is survived by an adopted son, George, of Tucuman, N. M., and by a sister, Mrs. Minnie Nichols of Colorado. The funeral will be held Sunday, at 3 p. m., from Schwab's undertaking parlor at Ballwin, in St. Louis County, to the Bethel Church and Cemetery at Pond, Mo.

Held for Federal Authorities. Detectives, who recognized Daniel Solomon, alias Golden, 29 years old, when he alighted from a street car at Sarah and Olive streets at 11 p. m. yesterday, reported finding wrapped in newspaper in his pocket 99 grains of morphine and some loose morphine in a paper packet. He was held for Government authorities for possession of the narcotic.

BLUE LAW 'EMERGENCY' RULING

South Carolina Governor Will Let Motorists Buy Gasoline.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 11.—Declaring his interpretation of the ancient State Sunday closing law had been misunderstood, Gov. Richards has notified officers of the South Carolina Motor Club that gasoline may be sold on Sunday in case of emergency.

The Governor said he had no desire to interfere with travel by automobile on Sunday. The motor club now construes the Governor's stand to be that "whenever a man needs gas for his car it is an emergency."

4233 FEWER REASONS FOR INSOMNIA IN 1927

Humane Society Disposed of That Many Feline Prowlers and 4622 Dogs in 1926.

The Humane Society of Missouri put to death 4622 dogs, 4233 cats, and 479 horses and mules in the St. Louis district during 1926, according to the yearly report submitted yesterday at the annual meeting, held at Hotel Statler.

The cats and dogs were "sick, injured, stray and undesirable," according to the report, and the horses and mules disposed of were diseased, undernourished, or suffering from old age.

The horses and mules were shot, the cats chloroformed, and the dogs disposed of by means of hypodermic injections of strychnine, causing immediate death.

In addition, the society had cases involving goats, monkeys, fish, turkeys, rabbits, squirrels, pigeons, canary birds and ducks. The majority had to do with negligent care and feeding, or cruelty on the part of owners. Of the four monkey cases handled during 1926, one involved cruelty, on the part of the monkey. The animal was being taken from one address to another by a delivery boy, when it became unmanageable and sank its teeth in the boy's hand. Examination showed it had an incurable case of mange, and it was chloroformed.

Another Gets New Home.

The Society saw to it that another monkey, forced to live in a small unsanitary cage, got new living quarters. The monkey was part of a carnival at Carondelet Park. A third monkey died at the Shelter, the Society headquarters at 1618 Car street, from burns. The Zoo in Forest Park is the richer by one monkey because a certain house in Ohio street has no modern heating plant. A man gave his wife the monkey as a pet, but the animal shivered in stove-heated rooms and was turned over to the Society and later to the Zoo.

The Society had four cases involving fish, in which it was found certain fish merchants in Wellston were scaling the carp offered for sale while the fish lived. The merchants were cautioned to cut off the carp's head before scaling it.

In the poultry districts, the Society had many cases in which chickens and turkeys were found suffering from cold. Wild ducks, confined in a small cage at a West Pine street address and being improperly cared for, were sent to a competent bird man in the county. The society received a total of about 20,000 complaints during the year, upon which it acted. Among them were 130 cases in which neglected children were looked after—85 cases involving children who had been abused, and 45 cases were referred to other agencies whose sole province is the care of children.

Expansion of Society Urged.

Its work in 1926 cost the society $16,022.96, less than one-fourth of the sum spent by the Humane Society of Boston, a smaller city. Expansion of the society and its work was urged by Theodore Crane, president of the New Coliseum Company, who is a member of the Advisory Committee of the New York Women's League for Animals.

Gerald B. O'Reilly, president of the Mississippi Valley Kennel Club, was elected president at the meeting, succeeding Douglas W. Robert. Mrs. George W. Picken was named vice president, and George Brand treasurer. The new directors elected are Miss Agnes Benoit, Theodore Crane, Mrs. James M. Francis, Louis Hall, Mrs. Ben Turner and Adolph E. Winkelmeier.

RABBI'S DAUGHTER ARRESTED IN STORE IS DISMISSED

Detective Says Petty Larceny Charge Against Miss Sarah Grodsky Was Mistake.

A warrant charging Miss Sarah Grodsky, 19-year-old daughter of Rabbi Jacob Grodsky of Beth Abraham Congregation, with petty larceny was dismissed yesterday in Court of Criminal Correction. It had been issued on complaint of detectives of Famous-Barr Co., who declared they found her in the store last Monday afternoon with a pair of gloves and a scarf in her possession which she had not purchased.

Yesterday a store detective said in court that the charge was instituted "through a mistake." The goods in question were worth only $3.75. Miss Grodsky's brother declared after her release on bond that she had an open account at Famous-Barr and could buy what she wanted.

TO END LIQUIDATION OF HOUSING TRUSTS

Finance Commission Says St.
Louis Business Will Be Wound-Up Soon.

Liquidation of defunct housing trusts, which has been in progress since 1923, will be closed within the next few months. It was announced today by State Finance Commissioner Cantley at his office in Jefferson City.

Bryan Wilson of Mexico, who has been in charge of the local liquidation office, 1609 Syndicate Trust Building, as manager for the receiver, has resigned, and has been succeeded by Bernard T. Horwitz of Kansas City. Assets now on hand are estimated to exceed $1,500,000, and seven firms are represented.
They went into the commissioner's hands after repeal of the law by which the housing trusts were established.

It was announced recently that, because of the long-time real estate mortgages held, the liquidation might take four or five years more.
Cantley has decided that it must not take more than four or five months, and that some means of disposing of the long-term mortgages must be found, to enable the closing of the business and the avoidance of prolonged overhead expenses.

Civic Union, Working to Suppress Salacious Publications, Gets Office in Y. M. C. A.

The Civic Union of St. Louis, "To protect youth against indecent allures," filed incorporation papers today in Circuit Judge Ittner's court.

"Since its organization on Feb. 26, 1924, the Civic Union has continued its efforts to the suppression of salacious publications," said Mrs. M. M. Hart, the secretary-treasurer. The president is Prof. Isaac Lippincott of Washington University and the vice president is the Rev. Albert Muntzsch, S. J., of St. Louis University.

"The situation has decidedly improved," Mrs. Hart continued. "Many dealers have voluntarily cleared their racks of objectionable publications. The St. Louis Retail Druggists' Association has approved our work and appointed a committee to co-operate with us. Most dealers are perfectly ready to do so, for often they do not realize they are handling objectionable matter until their attention is called to it."

Office in Downtown Y. M. C. A. Mrs. Hart listed 27 organizations, including many religious groups, the Police Department, Juvenile Court and Psychiatric Clinic, as supporters of the movement.

"Contribution of temporary office space to the downtown Y. M. C. A. by the Church Federation and personal checks from Archbishop Glennon and Ferdinand Bach, executive secretary of the Jewish Federation, assures us of undivided public interest," she said.

Seeking financial support to carry on its activities, the organization is offering memberships to those who subscribe to its principles at from $1 for a "regular member" to $25 for a "sustaining member."

Considerable broadening of the present function is allowed in the purpose stated in the articles of agreement.

Co-operation With Authorities. The articles include a clause for co-operation with the authorities in application of laws "prohibiting such acts, practices and occupations as are immoral or indecent, or as have a tendency to promote immorality or indecency; to protect youth against indecent allures; to create a healthy public sentiment in support of the purpose of this association; and to do all other acts and things reasonably connected with or promotive of carrying out the above-mentioned purpose."

"The Civic Union has taken no definite stand in regard to censorship," said Mrs. Hart. "If the time should come when censorship seems to be the only answer to the problem, the responsibility will rest entirely upon the shoulders of the publishers and distributors of indecent magazines and the producers of salacious pictures and plays."

Acts on new theory, relieves the inflammation and irritation which is almost always the cause of the cough, and stops it like magic. Thoxine is equally good for sore throat, for which purpose it is far superior to gargles. Contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste and safe for children. Remember one swallow stops night coughs or sore throat within 15 minutes or money back. 35c, 60c and $1.00. At all druggists.

TELLEZ ASSAILED BY CONGRESSMAN

Gallivan of Massachusetts Charges Propaganda to Discredit Coolidge and Kellogg.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Charges that the Mexican Government, through Ambassador Teller here and its Consul-General in New York, had spent nearly $2,000,000 in an effort to discredit President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg, and that anti-American literature could be had for the asking at the New York consulate, are made by Representative Gallivan (Dem.) of Massachusetts, in an issue of the Congressional Record just off the press.

The charges were enumerated in a long statement which contained quotations from what the Representative termed a printed insult.

"For the asking," he said, "you can get, or could up to a few days ago, the printed insult by application at Elias's consulate, or by mail, and of this I have sworn and documentary proof."

Elias is Arturo Elias, Mexican Consul-General at New York, whose exequatur representative Gallivan assumed would be canceled by Secretary Kellogg.

Gallivan's Charges.

The Representative, who said he was impelled by duty to bring the situation to light to demonstrate the "essentiality" of an inquiry, in view of the failure of his resolution seeking information on the subject from the State Department, charged that Mexican officials:

Subsidized preachers and professors to attack the President of the United States.

Financed hack writers to attack the President.

Underwrote radical, religious and uplift organizations of all varieties to circulate this country in defamation of the Government.

Made an alliance with the Ku Klux Klan to inject religious bigotry into the controversy between this country and Mexico, and in general did anything "that the corrupt use of money would assist them in doing to wound falsehoods in the hope of confusing public opinion to the end that President Coolidge might be deterred from carrying out the identical policy initiated by Woodrow Wilson in protection of the rights of American citizens."

Borah Answers Critic.

Coincidental with publication of the statement, Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that "no amount of criticism" would remove him from the course he has pursued in the Mexican controversy.

The Idaho Senator, replying to a letter from Guy Stevens, director of the Association of Producers of Petroleum in Mexico, who had questioned his course in seeking information direct from President Calles, characterized such criticisms as "an expression of that agony which comes from a fear of the facts."

He said there were powerful interests that would like to see "a complete break with Mexico," and while he had no desire to see the oil companies or interests deprived of their legitimate rights, he disagreed with the policy that would seek protection by a breaking of relations.

Only After the Facts.

In communicating with Calles, Senator Borah said he had in mind "nothing more than to secure facts from all proper sources, and I have not intended unjustly to reflect upon anyone, whether they were oil interests or other interests."

"This hypocritical cry that would prevent one who is in a place where he must act upon important matters from gathering information from whatever source he may is but an expression of that agony which comes from a fear of the facts. But I know what I want to do and I know that no amount of criticism will prevent my doing it."

BECKER INDICTMENT DROPPED -IN STOLEN BONDS CASE

Chicago Judge Dismisses True Bill Found Against the Illinois Politician.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, March 11.—An indictment charging Francis A. Becker, politician and State Vehicle Bureau employee, with receiving $5000 in bonds stolen in the armored mail truck holdup in St. Louis on April 2, 1925, was dismissed today by Circuit Judge Brothers. It was shown the indictment was technically faulty.

It had been charged that Becker used the bonds to obtain a loan. He declared after his arrest that they were given him by John Worthington, the "Wolf of La Salle Street," who died in Atlanta penitentiary a year ago. Nine members of the Egan and Cuckoo gangs of St. Louis were sent to the penitentiary for the robbery.

12 Students Suspended After Party.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 11.—Six interns, members of the Medical School at the University of Minnesota, and six nurses from the University School of Nursing, have been suspended for six months because of a "boisterous party" held about 10 days ago. The party was given at a summer home, without chaperones, in violation of university rules. It was stated.

DOCTOR, 63, ILL, FALLS 7 STORIES TO DEATH

Dr. H. W. Frauenthal Founder of Joint Diseases Hospital in New York Killed.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Dr.
Henry W. Frauenthal, founder of the Hospital for Joint Diseases, was killed today when he fell from a bedroom window in his seventh-floor apartment in West Seventieth street. Police believe he lost his balance when he went to the window for air.

He was 63 years old and had been in ill health for the last month, relatives said. He was able, however, to make his daily visits to the hospital until a few days ago.

Dr. Frauenthal had a reputation as a specialist in the treatment of diseases of the joints. He was chief surgeon of the hospital he founded on Upper Madison avenue 27 years ago.

He was a native of Wilkes-Barre,
Pa. He is survived by his widow.
She was unaware of his death until some time after the body was found in a court yard.

Dr. Frauenthal was one of the survivors of the Titanic disaster when that vessel struck an iceberg in the north Atlantic in 1912.

her belongings there. She had she left and was attired in a house-neither coat, hat nor money when dress of blue material.

FROM SKULL FRACTURE

Police Trying to Find Out How Moriout, 24, Suffered Fatal Injury.

Police are investigating to determine how Arthur Moriout, 24 years old, an automobile mechanic and seasoned bondsman, suffered a fracture of the skull which caused his death yesterday at City Hospital. He was unconscious when brought to the hospital last Friday and never was able to make a statement to explain his injuries.

Charles Helmenz of 2245A Bentoun street, who accompanied Moriout to the hospital, told police Moriout came to his home last Thursday evening, apparently intoxicated and suffering from an injury to his head. Helmenz said Moriout muttered unintelligibly when asked about the injury. Moriout stayed at Helmenz' home a few minutes then departed, saying he was going to visit a physician.
Reaching the sidewalk he collapsed and was taken back into the house and put to bed.

Moriout and his wife separated about one year ago and since that time he had stayed most of the time with Helmenz. Moriout often signed Police Court bonds and had been seen frequently around the Municipal Courts Building.

His wife, Mrs. May Moriout, of 1917 Montgomery street, said she had left her husband because of his excessive drinking. Since the separation, a 18-year-old daughter, Dorothy, has been supporting her mother; a 10-year-old sister, Margaret, and a brother, LaVerne,
4, by working in a bakery.

PLANS MADE FOR FOREST WEEK
Hoo-Hoo Club to Direct Observance in St. Louis.
Plans for the observance of American Forest week, April 24 to 30, were announced by Julius Seidel, chairman for Missouri of the National Forest Week Committee, at a luncheon of the St. Louis Hoo-Hoo Club, at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.
The Hoo-Hoo Club is the St.
Louis chapter of the international fraternal order of lumbermen. Seidel appointed a committee to make plans for the week and to enlist the co-operation of other civic and business clubs, churches, schools and public officials. The Rev. P. A.
Simpkin of Santa Monica, Cal., international chaplain of Hoo-Hoo, and widely known among lum-men as "The Lumberjack Sky Pilot," was the principal speaker.

THREE RECREATIONAL PROJECTS OUTLINED

Outer Parks, Roping Off Street Areas and Using School Yards Contemplated.

Three recreational projects for which the Park and Playground Association of St. Louis is working are the formation of a corporation to acquire an outer park and boulevard system for the city, inauguration of the practice of roping off sections of streets daily for children's play areas and all-day use of public school yards as play grounds. These were described to the City Club at luncheon yesterday by Alfred H. Wyman, executive secretary of the association.

The outer park system, long a dream of St. Louis, is necessary for recreation of adults, Wyman said, and he advocated acquiring the land in St. Louis County before real estate prices there go higher. To this end, he related, the association proposes formation of a "nonprofit corporation" of public spirited persons to purchase the property, with the expectation that the city or State later would take it over.

Hydrant Showers Planned.
Examples of New York, Pittsburgh and other cities were cited by Wyman to show the simplicity and efficacy of the street playground idea. Single blocks of streets in congested residential districts are roped off for a few hours daily, with trained supervisors and police protection, and children thus are given safe places to play. It is planned to start this system here this summer in some Negro section. In hot weather refreshing showers can be provided, he pointed out, by attaching a simple and expensive piece of apparatus to fire plugs.

Children, Wyman declared, generally won't travel more than a quarter of a mile to reach a playground, or a half a mile to reach one having a swimming pool, athletic field and other facilities, and the convenient street spaces are worth while.

Instead of being closed after school hours, public school yards should be open all day as play places, with competent supervision, Wyman said, and the Board of Education is investigating this subject for the association.

"If we could open 25 or 30 school yards immediately," he continued, "I think we would see a reduction in the number of street accidents and a great falling off in delinquency, which arises when boys and girls loiter around street corners."

Immediate Solution Vital.
The $3,800,000 park and playground item of the 1927 bond issue, under which little work has been done so far, eventually will reach the city's great need for recreation space to a large extent, Wyman declared, but the hazard of automobiles to children now playing in the streets makes necessary some immediate solution. For this he offered the roped-off street and the school yard idea.

At least 100 and preferably as much as 200 square feet of playground area per child should be provided by the city, Wyman asserted, but only six playgrounds now in use have sufficient acreage. Eight, he added, have half enough space, three have one-third enough, four have one-fourth and four others one-eighth.

Four cardinal points of the Park and Playground Association, the speaker said, are: adequate financial support of existing parks and playgrounds, acquisition of more playgrounds, the outer park system and maintenance of public support and interest in recreation facilities.

$35,000 FUND WILL BE SOUGHT FOR WATERWAY CAMPAIGN
Meeting to Be Held Soon to Enlist Support for Mississippi Valley Association.

A meeting will be held at the city hall in a few days to enlist support for the Mississippi Valley Association, which has carried on the campaign in Congress for waterway improvement. James E. Smith, president of the association, who has given years of effort to this work, has asked for a $35,000 fund, to finance the remaining work needed on the part of the organization.

Those co-operating in the movement to support the association include W. K. Kavanaugh, Mayor Miller, W. Palmer Clarkson, August A. Busch, President Blum of the Chamber of Commerce, former Congressman Newton and a number of manufacturers and wholesalers.

WOMAN'S HEART ON RIGHT SIDE
Operation Discloses Other Organs Are Reversed.

PANA, Ill., March 11.—Complete reversal of all the organs was found when surgeons at a local hospital operated on Mrs. Frank Strasz of Nokomia. The heart was on the right side, while the appendix, liver and stomach outlet were on the left side.

The reversal apparently makes no difference in her physical condition, doctors said.

S. TO PROTEST AGAINST LOOTING IN CHINESE CITY

Consul at Hankow Instructed to Present Note to Cantonese Because of Excesses in Wuhu.

STRIKE AGITATORS IN SHANGHAI HELD

Soviet Note to Peking Warns of "Exceptional Measures," if Safety of Russian Captives Is Violated.

Consul at Hankow March 11.—The American Consul-General at Hankow was drawing up a protest today for presentation to the Cantonese authorities against excesses in the city of Wuhu after it was occupied by Cantonese soldiers several days ago.

John MacMurray, American Minister at Peking, instructed the Consul to make the protest, as American mission property was looted. Wuhu is 200 miles west of Shanghai. Antiforeign demonstrations there Tuesday and Wednesday led to the removal of foreign men and children to places of safety, and a group of them left yesterday on the steamer Katwa.

During the demonstration the customs house and Customs Club were wrecked, the foreign men in the city were concentrated under protection of warships.

Rains on Battle Front.

Heavy rains have converted all the Shanghai fighting front into cesspools stopping military operations of any consequence.

The Soviet consul general went Nanking yesterday in an effort to obtain the release of Mme. Borodin, wife of the Russian soldier, and of the three Russian captives who were arrested last Sunday aboard the Soviet vessel Lenina. He was met with necessary state in the city with the Government at Nanking.

The consul said the Chinese military search of the Pamir Lenina, a Russian steamer, was nothing objectionable and that the ship's captain was making a deposition that would be used in further protests by the Soviet Government against the violation of the neutrality of the sea.

Advises Early Release.
The "right" of the Soviet Government to release the captives, although detained as prisoners, are being lavishly entertained, their captors.

Russia's second note in connection with the seizure of the Soviet steamer, the Pamir Lenina, is a strong demand that the Chinese Government take action to secure the safety of the arrested captives, and compel the Soviet Government to take exceptional measures.

The Chinese authorities in Shanghai have begun to take action against strike agitators, many of whom have been arrested and are being held in custody.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress or reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always right denunciations of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
COURAGE, as a modern journalistic characteristic, is rare. My congratulations, therefore, on your splendid editorial entitled "Back to the Spoils."

To voice the wishes of the great inarticulate mass of the people against powerful but corrupt interests dominating the State Government not only takes idealism, but also courage of a high order. Your attack on Gov. Baker's plan to turn the State's eleemosynary institutions over to his political friends and associates is as fearless as it is justified. It presents facts, it calls attention to things that the politicians want to keep under cover, and it exposes in the clearest and most concise form what, if achieved, would amount to criminal injustice.

Moral character and scientific ability is nowhere in the world more greatly needed than in the administration of an institution or institutions for the insane. For there power is almost absolute—and the abuse of that power irrevocable. This was nowhere more strikingly revealed than in the congressional proceedings brought about a year ago against Commissioner Frederic A. Penning of Washington, D. C. and Dr. William C. Whitehead of St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the Insane, in that city.

And now, when in Missouri even the pretense of scientific control is to be abandoned and the various State institutions are to be left to the direct or indirect control of the politicians, it is not only an open invitation for a similar condition to assert itself in this State, but also a defiance of every decent and honest principle of government.

And in attacking such an eventuality, the Post-Dispatch is to be highly commended. Indeed, by the very spirit and character of the editorial, it was eminently fitting that it was jammed up against the top of the page, right next to the spirited affirmation of Joseph Pultzer, that the Post-Dispatch would always "fight for progress, never tolerate injustice or corruption, and ever oppose public plunderers."

The fact of that is more than true; it is thrilling.

The Camp Jackson Memorial.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
WOULD it not be possible for those who plan to commemorate the capture of Camp Jackson by Gen. Lyon to select a memorial more suited to the Grand-Lawton-Pine triangle than the one shown in their preliminary plan? The present design will cover the small and welcome opening in the pile of stone and another sculptural atrocity in the form of a General on a horse.

Would it not be better to plant the plot with grass and flowers and erect a dignified shaft in the center? This arrangement would preserve the present visibility of the opening affords motor traffic and save us from another mediocre monument.

MIKE ANGELO.

Setting the Clock by Law.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
ANENT the daylight saving, has this same editor of the Post-Dispatch considered the real honest-to-goodness worker who has to be on the job at 7 a. m. and who has an hour's street car ride in front of him, so that he gets up at 5:30 a. m. Or the storekeeper who gets up earlier so that the early workers can be fed? It is my opinion that if some of these people who want the clock turned back had to change places with some of the early workers they would want their morning sleep. You cry out against the Government encroaching on personal liberty, and the Volstead law running the morals of the people, but this proposed ordinance would force us what time to go to bed and what time to get up. As one of the early risers when we had daylight saving, I was getting up when it was dark and going to bed in daylight. But the war is over now, so let us consider the other fellow. A WORKER.

Daylight Saving in the Nursery.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
AGAIN the "daylight saving" campaign is on. St. Louis cannot be compared to Eastern cities, for our climate is far different. Most of us are extremely grateful for the hour of dusk as a relief from the burning heat of St. Louis' summer days. What a relief to tuck children in bed at the proper hour after a long summer day! This would be changed if daylight saving is not defeated. The Municipal Opera, all their door activities which depend on darkness for their beginning, would be delayed. Let the comparatively few golf enthusiasts who want an extra hour of daylight rearrange their lives without inconveniencing others. Let the working man have the cool early morning hour to rest, and the blessed hour of twilight come as always.

A READER.

Hard on the Early-Rising Worker.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
THE daylight saving plan will be a punishment and hardship to the real workers, in my opinion. Especially to those living in the country, who have a long way to go to work. They are already getting up at 4:30. Under the daylight saving plan they will have to arise at 3:30, thereby losing the best and most refreshing hour of sleep.

ENGLAND AND DISARMAMENT.

There has been some doubt about where the deepest hole in the sea is, but unless we are mistaken the British have found it and put Mr. Coolidge in it. They will participate in his disarmament conference, but instead of giving up any of their 40 cruisers they propose to apply the 5-5-3 ratio to this type of warship and let us have the same number.

So that if we go on with it, which we are obliged to do, since it is our party, what was to have been another disarmament schedule must become for us, if we are to affect the status quo at all, an extensive building program. We will have to build 30 more cruisers to match the cruiser strength of England, and that is precisely what she is going to propose. Instead of coming down to a balance with us, she will lift us up to a balance with her.

Of course, we have the alternative of consenting to let England have her 40 cruisers and contenting ourselves with our 10. It is this alternative that illustrates the political sagacity of our British cousins. When they think of it they must chuckle, and old sea dogs like Lord Beatty must rival the Gargantuan laughter of Neptune. For refusing to avail ourselves of her offer to let us also have 40 cruisers, we surrender the right to say anything more about it. The British are surprised that we ever set such a trap for ourselves, and we probably would not have done so except that having failed to achieve any particularly praiseworthy legislation in Congress, Mr. Coolidge is in dire need of a place of political thunder. He needed something spectacular to the credit of his administration, and suggesting another disarmament conference seemed an obvious way to get it.

The British say they were about to propose such a conference themselves. They delayed doing so because they could not muster cheek to say they were going to do any disarming. They are therefore obliged to us for making the proposal. It put them in exactly the position they wanted to occupy, and they are enjoying it. We aren't, but how often do we enjoy anything in which Mr. Coolidge leads us? In simple domestic matters, such as how many Virginia hams it should take to feed 60 guests, he may overcome with sheer weight of authority the judgment of a Mrs. Jaffray, but in the deep mazes of international politics he is no match for the far-seeing statescraft of Europe.

This is what the thing has come to. The conference will be held at Geneva in June. The three great maritime Powers—England, the United States and Japan—will participate. The British will move that the 5-5-3 ratio be applied to cruisers, with a minimum of 40 for England. Japan, which has not the money to keep up in this race of Titans, will probably consent, taking a minimum of 24—and we can build 30 more or not, as we will. Congress has just reluctantly voted money for three.

This is hardly what Mr. Coolidge had in mind. It is, however, more than an immediate plan with England. She believes we will build them, that if trouble comes it will come in the Pacific, and that when it does come the United States will be her logical ally. It is not that she wants to make Mr. Coolidge uncomfortable. Who wants a weak ally?

BATTILING ROSALIE.

"I refuse to become a mere echo to my husband," says Rosalie Jones in a pre-nuptial statement. And if you don't think she means it, ask anyone who has seen this whirlwind of the suffrage movement in action. That gal is the Peer Horsewoman of the Apocalypse. Echo? She's a detonation.

Ex-Mayor Kiel, who is leading the fight for the Municipal Opera against a State tax on amusements, estimates that the Baker plan would cost the Forest Park enterprise $40,000 a year. If so, adoption of the bill by the Legislature would easily qualify the Governor as the villain in one of next summer's musical comedies.

SAY IT WITH BALLOTS.

Honors are now even between the Senate and the House in what seems to be a race between them to make the present session of the Legislature memorable for its failure to do anything. The House, after much advance lobbying by Secretary of State Becker, State Treasurer Stephens and State Auditor Thompson, killed the bill proposed by the Association for Economy in Public Expenditures. The purpose of this bill was to reorganize the State government, now operating with the methods of the ox-cart era, by creating a budget system, consolidating 123 departments into nine and lopping off a lot of useless employees from the payroll.

Some weeks ago the Senate gutted the program for reform of criminal procedure offered by the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice. The ground for its defeat was laid by jackleg lawyers. In the course of a single legislative session, the Senate moved down the criminal code bills almost as rapidly as they could be offered for vote. There was hardly the semblance of discussion, and the whole process had the unmistakable air of prearrangement.

Both of these legislative programs were the result of long and intensive study. The Missouri Association for Criminal Justice devoted two years and a large sum of money to a survey of Missouri criminal law, which attracted nationwide attention. Leading lawyers, business and professional men of the State participated in the survey. Everyone but the Senate found it good. The Association for Economy in Public Expenditures simply tried to apply modern methods of governmental efficiency to our rickety State Government. Everyone but the House recognized the soundness and desirability of its proposals.

By adopting these two programs, with whatever modifications it saw fit to make, the Legislature could have made a glowing record, even if it had done nothing else. But it spurned public leadership, as reflected by the two associations, and accepted the whispered pleas of the sycophants and the congenial office holder. Now that it has disposed of the two major ideas offered it, the Legislature is on its own hook. It will be interesting to see what it can do between now and adjournment to justify its existence.

In the meantime, what Woodrow Wilson called the gun behind the door, namely, the initiative, is ready at hand. The people, who cannot get what they want at Jefferson City, have the power to do their own legislating. What they think about the Legislature's action they may soon say with ballots at the polls.

Mr. Coolidge, says a former housekeeper, saves $50,000 a year. How does this Vermont spendthrift squander the rest of it?

SPOILS FOR SCIENCE.

Two physicians of high professional standing, Dr. Breuer of St. James and Dr. Pearce of Kansas City, have come out squarely against the salary-grab bill passed by the House Tuesday. This bill, as has been explained, proposes to abolish the office of State Health Supervisor and apportion that officer's salary among the favorite appointees.

Dr. Breuer, president of the Missouri State Medical Society, points out that the association worked for years to take those hospitals out of politics and give the unfortunate patients the best of care and treatment as developed by scientific medicine. That is the treatment they are now receiving, as a result of a law passed in 1921, which created the office of State Health Supervisor. The law has worked admirably, Dr. Breuer says, due to the fact that the physician appointed to the place, Dr. George A. Johns of St. Louis, is outstandingly equipped for his office by reason of special training and ability.

Dr. Pearce, chairman of the association's Committee on Public Health, corroborates everything Dr. Breuer says, and, in addition, asserts that Dr. Johns, as Health Supervisor effects important financial savings and is "a great power for good in hospital management."

The consensus of our medical profession will, we feel confident, support the testimony of the two physicians quoted. But if there are physicians in Missouri of repute and consequence who will say that the present scientific system of administering our State hospitals is unsatisfactory and that the old repudiated system of political management is superior and should be reinstated then let Gov. Baker and Representative Jones H. Parker and the appointees who are hungering for salary boosts—let these sponsors of this bill bring forth their witnesses.

They cannot do it. They cannot get physicians whose opinions amount to anything to say that scientific care of patients sick in mind and body ought to be discarded and that in the humane as well as medical obligation of State Hospital administration Missouri should turn about face and march back into the dark ages of institutional management by politicians.

There can be no mistake about what this salary-grab bill will do.

It will substitute political skill for medical skill. It will substitute the man without special training for the distinguished specialist.

It will substitute spoils for science.

The Senate ought to kill this House bill. Better still Senator Brogan's committee ought to bury it alive.

Oregon has refused to be decorated by Mussolini, thus forestalling the smelling of a Fascist plot in Central America by our State Department.

TWO DOWN TO ONTARIO.

Under the new Ontario law the wooing of the bottle is hedged with many restrictions. One must have a permit. This permit may be refused for cause. It may later be revoked. The amount one may buy at one time is to be specified. Hours of sale are to be fixed. The selection of brands is in the hands of the Government. Violation of the law carries heavy penalties. And so on and so forth. But—

In the cool of the evening, the free Ontario householder may take down his bottle of rye or Scotch from the pantry shelf and mix a round of drinks without—

1. Pulling down the shades.
2. Fear of poisoning himself.
3. Wherein Ontario has us two down.

Secretary of State Becker, State Auditor Thompson and State Treasurer Stephens will emerge from the present session of the Legislature with the distinction of being actively and successfully opposed to economy in public expenditures.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

STAGE AND MOVIES IN ENGLAND.

BASIL DEAN to the Manchester Players' Club.

THE prime need from the actor's point of view in the English theater is personality. So often today we have in its place "exhibitionism," which is not acting at all. This lack of personality is not entirely due to the indifference of England toward the theater; it is also partly due to the fact that the authors are no longer writing great parts. Possibly they are writing a better sort of play in some senses; but unless the actor has great parts, he can not act.

The cinema has all the elements for future success; it has public interest, it has money, it has youth, and it has warm and comfortable buildings. How can the theater be expected to achieve anything in face of these advantages? I believe, too, that eventually the cinema will reach definite artistic standards, and I believe that day not very far off. If a man of genius and some culture come along to take hold of it, and has the courage to draw upon that vast store of our historical past, we shall read less about the submergence of the British film beneath the load of American monstrosities.

In spite of all I have said, I believe in the drama. The instinct for drama is native in every one. I believe that the theater as time goes on will play to increasingly selective audiences, and I believe that during this time of trial it is going to be reborn. A lot of the bad wood will have to come away. Plays will have to be changed. They must be passionate, they must be vital, they must be simple. I would like to see them get back to the elemental things that made the plays of the Victorian era so popular. That is not to say we are going to have the old, dry formulas, of course, but let us get back to the human elements.

THE REASON.

From Tid-Bits, London.

A YOUNG man said to a girl, bitterly: "Why did you flirt with me? Why did you let me take you motoring and bathing and sailing every day? Why did you encourage me when you were already engaged?"

The girl sighed and answered: "I wanted to test my love for George."

WANTED—A MEXICAN POLICY.

WALLACE THOMPSON, in Atlantic Monthly for March.

WHERE are we going with Mexico? What is the reason for the confusions and the failures in our Mexican relations? Is it, actually, a lack of policy, or is it that we follow a policy which, as the Mexicans tell us, is outworn and unfair and unwise? A learned doctor of laws from one of the great lands that lie to the south said to me the other day:

"There are only three policies that you of the United States can follow toward Mexico. First, you can leave her alone. Second, you can intervene in her affairs by turning revolutions loose upon her. Third, you can make a conquest of her territory."

The third you may not follow, because your people will not let you. The second, intervention, you have been following for a hundred years, in all the ways possible to the imagination, and yet you still have the same old troubles with Mexico. Why not try the first way and leave Mexico alone?"

THE NORDICS OF OLD.

From the Pathfinder.

THE word "Nordic" is derived from "nord," Scandinavian for north. It was applied by Joseph Deniker, the French anthropologist, to a race of tall, blond people who once inhabited Scandinavia, Scotland and Northern England. The ancient Goths, for instance, were Nordics. They are supposed to have been the most highly developed branch of the white race and differed more from the yellow, brown, red and black races than did any other branch of the white race. Some scholars believe that traces of the original Nordic language survive in such English words as "wife" and "house," which are not found in Indo-European languages outside the Germanic group. Popularly the word "Nordic" has been extended to all the Germanic or Teutonic peoples. According to the so-called Nordic theory, people of Nordic descent are superior biologically to all other races.

CANADIAN THRIFT.

From Thrift Magazine.

THE people of the United States can learn a valuable lesson from their Canadian neighbors. With a population no greater than the metropolitan district of Greater New York, their deposits in chartered banks throughout the Dominion totaled $1,342,116,752 at the close of the last fiscal year, an increase of $82,000,000 compared with the previous 12 months.

MENTAL GYMNASICS AT HOME.

"NEUTRAL ZONE"
NICARAGUA BARS ONLY RE TROOPS action in accordance with Constitution.
Conditions in 1912.
Senator Shipstead paid special attention to the presence of the troops in Nicaragua.
The Marines in Nicaragua are familiar with the history of the Marines in Nicaragua are you not?" he asked.

Morgan replied that he was.
"You have no reason to believe," continued Shipstead, "that the same things are going on now, and that they are being used for the same purposes that they were used for in 1912, have you?"
"That depends on what you mean, Senator," parried the witness. "What did they do in 1912?
They went there in 1912 to protect American and foreign lives and property."
"The sworn testimony before this committee of the Senate in 1914, two years later," said Ship-stead, "shows an entirely different state of affairs. For instance, Bundy Cole, who had charge of the bank there and the railroad that New York bankers, admitted that he wrote the message for the American Minister asking that help be sent."

"I am sure there has been nothing like that this time," said Morgan.

Continuing his description of conditions in 1912, Shipstead quoted an American official who was there at the time. This official testified that marines were there to protect the railway. He was asked why it was necessary for the marines to kill a lot of people to protect the railway, and he replied: "No; I think that was stretching it a bit."

Shipstead quoted this testimony from the 1914 hearing, and added to the witness: "I hope that as the years go by, that kind of condition will not be repeated in this case."

"I sincerely hope so, too," replied Morgan. "I do not think it will."

"Putting It Over on U. S."
"After reading the sworn testimony of that investigation," continued Shipstead, "I have come to the conclusion that the people down there are 'putting it over' on the State Department. I hope that nothing like that is happening now."

"I hope not, too, and I do not think it is, Senator," replied Morgan.
Quizzed by Senator Robinson about the neutral zones established by the marines, the witness said such zones were confined to the places of residence of United States nationals and the railway line. Robinson asked whether neutral zones would be declared in places where there were nationals of foreign countries, but no Americans.

"That question," said the witness, "has not arisen."
"Is it the policy to do that if necessary?" pursued Robinson.
"Of course that is a hypothetical case," replied Morgan.

"While it is hypothetical just now," said Robinson, "it may be a very practical question tomorrow."
"That is true," said the witness.
"I do not know of any town, however, where that is likely to occur, because the Americans so greatly outnumber the other foreigners, that anywhere there are foreigners, there are sure to be some Americans."

Defends Policy in Mexico.
Another witness before the committee was W. S. Howell Jr., a former service officer, assigned to the division of Mexican affairs. He testified that he entered the diplomatic service in 1916 and named the countries to which he had been assigned. Mexico was not among them. Howell's testimony was a defense of the State Department's policy in the controversy with Mexico over the Mexican oil and land laws. He stressed the contention that the Mexican Government, under the land laws, had taken 22-000,000 acres of land for agrarian purposes, without compensation.
The figures, he said, were taken from press reports, which were supposed to have come from Mexican sources. He added that of course not all this land was owned by American citizens.

Senator Robinson asked specifically whether any oil lands, owned or claimed by nationals of the United States, had been actually seized under the Constitution of 1927 and the statute of 1925. The witness replied that thus far the State Department had received no word of the confiscation of any such property.

It came out at the hearing that Senator Borah had been in direct communication with President Calles of Mexico.

"That is a new thing in the way of diplomatic communication," commented Senator Willis.
"It is unusual," chimed in Senator Moses, "for a member of Congress to communicate directly with a foreign country."

"It might be unusual," retorted Borah, "but the precedent has been established."
"No," countered Moses. "It takes more than one swallow to make a summer."

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA SERIES FOR PRIVATE SCHOOLS ENDS

First of Musical Festival Concerts Will Be Given Monday in Beaumont High School.

The French horn, of which there are four types in the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, was featured yesterday at the final concert of the Young People's Series for students of private and parochial schools of St. Louis and public schools of St. Louis County, given at the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Motion pictures were shown which traced the development of the French horn from the medieval battle trumpet. The horns of the orchestra were demonstrated and program numbers in which they predominated were presented, including selections from Wagner, Mendelssohn, Liszt and Chabrier.
The first of 15 Community Music Festival Concerts will be given by the orchestra Monday night at Beaumont High School for high school students and parents of that district. Concerts in other districts will follow at later dates.

Billions of Dollars

Estates aggregating in value many billions of dollars are being administered by corporate trustees in the United States.

The men and women who left these estates were accustomed to handling large sums of money. They realized that their heirs might not be equally "moneywise" and therefore named a corporate trustee to administer their estate. Today their heirs are benefitting from this wisdom.

NOLTE OPPOSES MAYOR ON LIGHT CONTRACT

Citizens' Bond Committee Defers Action on New District Ordinance for Week.

Mayor Miller and Comptroller Nolte appeared before the Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee yesterday to present opposite views about the size of the next contract district in the conversion of street lights to electricity.

The Mayor urged approval by the committee of a proposed ordinance appropriating $1,550,000 for electric lights in the district bounded by the river, Kingshighway, Chouteau avenue and Delor street. He said this should be done to speed the lighting program.

The Comptroller proposed reducing the appropriation to $1,000,000, which would cut the district area, but which, he said, would permit more rigid inspection of materials by his office. He is holding up part of the payment, claimed by A. M. Ryckoff, who held the last large contract, because the city's figures account for 190,000 feet, or $32,000 worth, less of cable than Ryckoff asserts was used. Director of Public Utilities Pritchard and his lighting superintendent, George B. Heath, told the committee the city was now prepared to inspect large contracts thoroughly.

When the Mayor said he thought he and Nolte could reach an agreement on the size of the next contract the committee deferred action on the ordinance for a week.

DEATH OF HOSPITAL BABIES CAUSES NEW ORDER TO NURSES

Chicago Health Chief Forbids Medicines Without Written Orders From Doctors.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Taking a lesson from the deaths of six infants fed boric acid instead of sterilized water recently in a Chicago hospital, Health Commissioner H. N. Bundesen today promulgated new regulations to govern the dispensing of poisons used in hospitals.

"All drugs and solutions used in hospitals must be prepared under the direction of a registered pharmacist or physician and carefully labeled," read Dr. Bundesen's new rule. "All medicines shall be administered only upon the written order of a physician except in extreme emergency."

The current issue of the American Medical Association Journal, in its hospital number, seized upon the opportunity to spread the lesson throughout American medicine. The journal pointed out that "while boric acid is so frequently used as a household article that its power for harm is ordinarily overlooked," its potential danger is such that its use as a food preservative has been forbidden in the United States, France, Germany, Holland, Italy and Spain, with Great Britain only recently following suit.

"The science of resemblances," said Dr. Reche, "appears invariably to stand well out in the face," said Dr. Reche, "appears invariably to be passed down the line of progeny." Fingerprints, shape and size of ears, color and quality of hair and many other physical characteristics are carefully compared in these cases.

'SCIENCE OF RESEMBLANCES' NEW TEST FOR PATERNITY

Invented by Expert Witness of Viennese Courts; Nose a Significant Feature.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, March 11.—Blood tests are rejected by Austrian courts as conclusive proof of paternity, but fathers who dodge their responsibility now face the "science of resemblances." This "science" has been chiefly developed by court experts.

Dr. Otto Reche of Vienna University keeps score for and against the suspected father. When blood test resemblances are confirmed by most of a score of other resemblances which he seeks, he concludes that doubt is eliminated.

"A nose with a tendency to stand well out in the face," said Dr. Reche, "appears invariably to be passed down the line of progeny." Fingerprints, shape and size of ears, color and quality of hair and many other physical characteristics are carefully compared in these cases.

Lucezia Bori in Role of "Mignon."

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The opera "Mignon" was revived at the Metropolitan Opera House last night. The role of "Mignon," the Gypsy girl, last portrayed at the Metropolitan in 1908 by Geraldine Farrar, was sung by Lucezia Bori. The youthful soprano, Marion Talley, won approval in a type of part new to her as Filina, an actress and coquette of the eighteenth century. Beniamino Gigli, tenor, and Clarence Whitehill, baritone, sang the principal parts.

I've heard tell down to the store how you have 84 chances out of 100 of getting more mileage from Michelin Tires.

Now let's all be bright and cheerful and think of how nice it will be to get home

GWYNAS WILLIAMS

*This statement is based on facts. We picked at random 1500 motorists who were testing Michelin Tires opposite other brands on the same car. 84% said their Michels lasted longer than the other makes they were using.

Here's Our Bid for your tire business

"No matter what tires you are now using, we promise you more mileage if you will buy MICHELIN TIRES of us!"

How can we make this sweeping promise? Well, just consider the facts:

FACT 1—Written reports have been secured from over 1500 motorists picked entirely at random except that all were testing various makes of tires opposite Michels. 84% said they secured more mileage from their Michels than from the other tires they were using.

FACT 2—In Detroit, the home of the automobile, in a vote taken among all of the 984 tire dealers, more dealers voted for Michelin as the best tire than for any other make.

FACT 3—During the past three years Michelin sales have grown three times as fast as the tire industry as a whole. Something more than words did that.

FACT 4—Records covering over a million miles show that, on an average, Michels give 36% more mileage than other tires.

FACT 5—Back in 1895 Michelin was the world's first pneumatic auto tire. Today Michelin is still first, and over 25,000 tire builders are kept busy trying to supply the great world-wide demand for Michels.

But in addition to quality there's another factor—Price. We sell Michels at the price of standard tires. Think of that. Then ask yourself: "Don't I owe it to myself to give these fellows a chance?"

DR. OLDS TELLS HOW AMHERST HEALED RIFT

Retiring President Thanks
St. Louis Alumni for Helping College to Carry On.

Dr. George E. Olds, president of Amherst College since 1923, when he was called upon to "heal the rift" in Amherst ranks which followed the resignation of Dr. Alexander Melcklejohn, extreme liberalist educator, was guest of honor last night at a dinner given by Amherst alumni of St. Louis at the University Club. The occasion marked Dr. Olds' formal farewell to St. Louis alumni, for he has resigned and will leave Amherst in June.

When he was made president, Dr. Olds said, the smoothing out of undergraduate and alumni difficulties appeared an impossible task. The loyal support of the Amherst alumni, more than anything else, he said, tided the college through its crisis.

"When I faced the alumni at their great meeting in the autumn of that year," Dr. Olds declared, "I knew that even my own son of them was ready to do all in his power, because he knew Amherst must go on. They were agreed that Amherst in itself was bigger than any one man."

Dr. Olds reviewed the 35 years he has spent at Amherst, stressing the growth of the college and the permanence of its ideals. A master of arts from Rochester University, Dr. Olds went to Amherst in 1891 as professor of mathematics, and later was made college dean, resigning the deanship to become president. In his address he upheld a selective curriculum as more desirable than a free elective system, and emphasized the will of the student as an important factor in education.

"At Rochester four years of French were required," Dr. Olds said, "and in the third year, when we studied physics, we had to read French scientific texts. It is a fact that this course of study made it possible for us to think in the language. If that course in physics with its French collateral reading had been elective, I doubt very much if I should have chosen it. I think it's a good thing we're getting away from the free elective system and swinging back to the required course of study."

Dr. Olds was presented with a silver plate, appropriately inscribed as a mark of affection and esteem from the St. Louis alumni.

No mention was made at the meeting of Dr. Olds' successor, who is to be named by a committee that includes Dwight W. Morrow of J. P. Morgan & Co. and Stanley King, vice president of the International Shoe Co. Laurence B. Packard, professor of history at the college, and who is accompanying Dr. Olds on the latter's farewell tour, has been mentioned, although it was said last night no definite choice had been made.

Prof. Packard, in his address, championed liberal education, and characterized Amherst as a liberal college. "Back of Amherst is an idea that there is something beyond material success," he said. "It stands for the liberal education that equips a man to live with himself."

Edward T. Hall, '97, was elected president of the St. Louis alumni to succeed Dr. M. Hayward Post, James P. Wilson was chosen vice president and H. Lyman Smith secretary.

A controversy between rival boards of directors of the Waters Oil Co. of 3544 Minnesota avenue was taken to Circuit Court yesterday in a suit by one board asking that the other board be ousted from office.

The plaintiffs—R. J. Burns, C. W. B. Sitzer, Paul S. Freedman, John N. Denny and John Andrews—were elected, they say, at a stockholders' meeting at the Hamilton Hotel last Saturday. The suit is against the company's president, Dr. J. D. Thurmon, F. M. Thurmon, Ed. Houle, F. B. Miller, H. C. Ebertson.

According to the suit, Dr. Thurmon has been dominating the affairs of the business, concerning which he has failed to render an adequate accounting. It is charged that the defendant board of directors, which is under his control, was elected at a session of stockholders at the Hamilton Hotel on Tuesday, although no quorum was present. It is also claimed the meeting was not legally called.

Pending adjudication of the trouble, a receiver for the Missouri assets of the company is asked. A receiver already is in control of Texas property of the corporation.

SLEEPING TRAIN CREW BLAMED FOR COLLISION ON C. & A.

Crash Near Laramie, Mo., Resulted in One Death and Injuries to 15 Persons.
By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 11.—Taking a nap by an entire train crew caused the collision on the Chicago & Alton Railroad near Laramie, Mo., Jan. 25, which resulted in one death and injuries to 15 persons. Interstate Commerce Commission inspectors reported today. The sleeping crew was in charge of a freight train, which turned out on a sidetrack to await the passage of two passenger trains.

During the wait, the investigators said, the crew took a nap and were awakened by the noise of a passing train. They crew concluded that the two passenger trains had gone by and moved out on the main line, just in time to be wrecked.

NORTH HILLS PROPOSAL REJECTED BY M. A. A.

Members Overwhelmingly Against Financing $1,500-000 Country Club.

Members of the Missouri Athletic Association have defeated the proposal to absorb the North Hills Country Club, which involved $1,500,000 in financing.

The balloting, by mail, which began last Monday and will continue till next Monday, so far has given an overwhelming vote against the scheme, which is not expected to be revived.

Out of 1273 votes cast up to noon today, 1093 were against the proposal and 180 for it. It was provided that at least 1955 of the 2118 members would have to cast ballots and at least 1272 of them would have to be favorable, to carry the proposition. Even if the remaining 845 members should vote for the merger, it would be defeated.

To test sentiment another proposition was placed on the ballot, for a vote to determine how many members favored any sort of country club affiliation for the M. A. A. So far only 257 have given affirmative answers to this.

ROCKEFELLER'S INFLUENCE IN CHURCH ASSAILED

Critic Says Movement Is On to Make Conversion an Oil Department.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 11.—An attack on the influence of John D. Rockefeller Jr., in the Baptist Church was made by the Rev. T. T. Shields of Toronto before the Baptist Bible Union of North America yesterday. Dr. Shields is president of the organization. Dr. Shields charged that a movement was under way to make the Northern Baptist convention a religious department of the Standard Oil Co.

Proposals of a special "Efficiency" Committee headed by Raymond B. Fosdick, brother of Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, would make "the convention in its principle of organization a duplicate of the Standard Oil Co.," Dr. Shields asserted.

The plan calls for a study of the various church departments with a view to reorganization.

Dr. Shields characterized the plan as an effort to push the church "on the plane of a big business firm," and said that at a meeting recently called in New York to consider the plan only 15 of 75 big business men invited by Rockefeller attended.

Dr. Shields also urged Baptists to fight the "effort by Mr. Rockefeller and Dr. Fosdick to abolish immersion as a requirement for Baptist membership."

Dr. Fosdick, meanwhile, in a lecture in Town Hall, was praising Roman Catholic veneration of the Virgin. "I cannot help believe that my Roman Catholic brethren have the right idea," he said. Dr. Fosdick recently urged Protestant use of the confessional.

POSTMASTER KILLS MERCHANT IN PISTOL FIGHT IN STREET

Both Open Fire After Brief Talk in Clemons, Ky.; Slayer Seriously Wounded.

By the Associated Press.

CLEMONS, Ky., March 11.—William Hurt, 29 years old, is dead and French F. Caldwell, 45, in a serious condition as the result of a pistol fight in the street here.

Hurt, a merchant, and Caldwell, Postmaster, were said to have been on bad terms for some time. They met last night, and after a short conversation, each walked a few paces, turned and began firing.

Two of Hurt's shots took effect in Caldwell's legs and hips. Hurt was shot through the heart, dying instantly.

The Eighty-ninth Division in action will be shown in motion pictures at a joint meeting of reserve officers of the Sixth Army, Seventh Army Corps, 451st Infantry, cavalry reserve officers, and members of Scabbard and Blade, a national military fraternity, at the Elks' Club Monday evening.

A St. Louis chapter of Scabbard and Blade was organized recently from among 80 alumni of the society, which has chapters in 65 universities and colleges. Members of the St. Louis Chapter include Chancellor Hagley of Washington University, Col. W. B. Ball, chief of staff of the 102d Division, and Col. Moor N. Falls, commandant of Jefferson Barracks.

HER AGED MOTHER ADVISED HER RIGHT

Now She Is Thankful for Having Taken Her Advice—Life-Long Resident of St. Louis Gives This Statement for the Benefit of Others.

"Most every being is grateful enough to praise anyone else or anything that helps to better the living conditions of anyone, especially one's health. I am no exception to the general rule, and right here I want to add my endorsement of the Herb Extract

MRS. H. OCHLER

Mrs. Ochler, who has lived in St. Louis all her life, at the age of sixty-one found herself all broken in health and the future looked dark indeed without good health to comfort her. In a recent interview with the special representative of the Herb Extract preparation (formerly known as Herb Juice) Mrs. Ochler continued with her statement as follows: "My aged mother who is now eighty-seven, began using your medicine last summer. She used it for constipation, stomach disorders and a general run-down system. After taking it regularly for several months she is now wonderfully improved in health and I don't think anyone could possibly be a more enthusiastic booster for this medicine. My mother, knowing of my poor state of health, urged me repeatedly to take the herb remedy. After using it, now for me to say that it has helped me more than any other medicine I have ever taken, is only stating the facts. As a result of taking this medicine, I have been relieved of the constipation condition, stomach is now in remedy (formerly called Herb Juice). My mother, knowing what it had done for herself, advised me to take it for better health. Well, I did, and now I am thankful for having taken her good advice," said Mrs. H. Ochler, 2236 Olive Street, St. Louis.

This great medicine is an Herb Extract preparation, formerly called Herb Juice, and is out-selling all other medicines. Hundreds continue to call at Walgreen's Drug Store, 514 Washington avenue, to see the special demonstrator, many voluntarily giving statements for publication, praising this great medicine that their friends may be induced to try same.

Henry French, 23, Was Shot by Policeman When Cab Driver Shouted for Help.

Harry French, 23 years old, a chauffeur, of 2165A North Eleventh street, who was shot in the abdomen by a policeman during a holdup Sunday night, died at City Hospital last night.

French and another man, riding in a Yellow taxi cab, held up the chauffeur, Louis Boltano, at Third and Abby streets, taking $3, the other man then driving, with French guarding Boltano in the rear seat. As they crossed Broadway, going west, Boltano called for help, and Patrolman Louis Brusati fired at the automobile. French leaped out and ran north on Seventh street, but was wounded by the policeman.

His companion escaped in the taxi cab, which he later abandoned. French, also known as Thomas, said it was his first robbery. He refused to name his companion.

Oklahoma Gets Escaped Convict. Gun Sert, Charles Hulsey of Oklahoma, escaped from the penitentiary at McAlester (Ok.) Penitentiary today took Jesse Haynes, an escaped life-term convict into custody from the police and will take him to the penitentiary tonight.

Haynes was arrested on suspicion at Seventh and Market streets Wednesday by Detectives Klug and Fairchild and was held after his fingerprints had identified him.

He escaped with another convict last year. Both were wounded at that time and the marks of three bullet wounds on his body when he was arrested was one of the circumstances which confirmed the police suspicion of him.

ANGRY, SPREADING RASH ON BABY'S BODY

Checked and healed by soothing ointment

Los Angeles, Cal., July 28:—"When my baby was four months old, little red pimples which resembled heat or teething rash appeared on her body. I used various baby powders, but the trouble kept spreading until nearly all the lower part of her body was covered. Then it began to look white and scaly and I knew it was more than an ordinary rash. I decided to try Resinol Ointment, and after the first two or three applications I noticed an improvement. I kept on using this ointment, however, and bought some Resinol Soap to bathe her with. The result was that the trouble completely disappeared. I have always used Resinol Soap for her bath since. She is two years old now, and her skin is absolutely free from any blemish. When my boy began to have ringworms, I was so persistent in the use of Resinol Ointment that they were soon cleared away. I wouldn't be without Resinol in the house, and at the least sign of any eruption on the children, I use it." (Signed) Mrs. L. E. Crenshaw, 7806 Lou Dillon Ave.

It's so wonderful for skin eruptions, pimples, acne and salt rheum, for instance, that many times only two or three applications are needed to make the skin clear and healthy.

Its mighty healing power is clearly shown when used for ulcers, piles and rashes, while as a household remedy for burns, scalds, abrasions, bruises, insect bites, windburn and chafing, druggists will tell you it is unsurpassed. Big box 35 cents.

PLANNING MENUS FOR THE COMING WEEK

Carefully Arranged Meals Contribute to Health and Happiness.

One good way in which to introduce variety into a simple weekly food plan is by thinking up unusual fruits for breakfast. Not that the average housekeeper will wish to indulge in fruits out of season. This is neither economical nor sensible. By careful expenditure, however, of even a modest food allowance and by watching the market, one may pick up a number of rather unusual fruits. One good example is the tangerine, which is featured this week in our Sunday morning breakfast.

When you wish to vary the clam bisque with whipped cream try combining it with minced cream celery. A dainty cup of this unusually appetizing soup is the best of all beginnings for a cold weather luncheon or supper. Another variation in serving the ordinary vegetables is that found in the potato mounds served for Monday dinner. It will be noticed that the menus present still another variation of the old-fashioned "boiled dinner." Time was when boiled dinner meant corned beef and cabbage, the cabbage being pretty well soaked in the fat of the beef. To-day the careful housekeeper and home dietitian serves her cabbage as a delicately buttered or scalloped and baked dish, or, as in this case, in the form of creamed soup. And speaking of cabbage, let us not forget that one of the most famous nutrition authorities in this country sees to it that his family eats some form of cabbage every day.

Another point worth noting in this plan is the use of fruit compote with roast meat. The pineapple compote served with Sunday's roast is not, of course, a striking novelty. Many housekeepers now make such combinations quite as a matter of course. The important idea to bring out is the nutritional value of such combinations. Pineapple juice, for example, has in it a principle that is directly helpful in digesting meat fibers. Other fruits, while perhaps not possessing this special principle do offer in delicious form the body-regulating mineral salts that help digest meat.

RICE FOR BREAKFAST

Food Experts Have Evolved a Prepared Rice Cereal.
Now comes a prepared rice food ready for use as it is taken from the package. In preparing this new product, the producer has developed a new and different flavor to provide a breakfast and luncheon cereal that is particularly pleasing to children and grown-ups, while, with the roughage and other qualities of the grain retained, it meets the requirements of the dieticians for a health-giving food.

Scientists have traced the cultivation of rice as far back as 6000 B. C. when it was grown and cultivated on the banks of the Euphrates. Its food value was quickly recognized and its use rapidly spread. Whole nations have come to depend upon it as the staff of life. Chinese and Japanese find in it the requirements of a full meal.

While rice was brought to this country for planting in 1694, it was for many years considered a luxury, to be used as a dessert, and the older generation has fond recollections of youthful days, when it was cupped with raisins and served with cream as the crowning course of a special dinner.

But the value of the grain, its cleanliness and health-producing qualities soon gave it a more important place in the American diet, and for the invalid, the child and the most robust individual it is considered an ideal dish. Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri and California are devoting thousands of acres to its growth and cultivation.

Buffet Suppers Are Ideal To Serve Sunday Evening

The Jolly Small Intimate Supper Can Be Readily Arranged by a Hostess Without a Maid.

There seems to be more occasions for entertaining on Sunday evening than there formerly were, and the wise hostess is forethoughtful and lays in a supply of staples that she can quickly assemble into delightful refreshments at a few moments' notice.

The buffet supper is ideal for Sunday evening. It can be prepared in advance and wheeled into the living room if the hostess has her habitation in an efficiency apartment. The menu may consist of one hot dish, a variety of sandwiches, small cakes, punch or the preferred hot beverage. The use of an electric chafing dish will make possible many tempting hot dishes which can be made while the guests watch the process.

In serving a Sunday night buffet supper everything necessary for its preparation and every item of napery, cutlery, china and glassware should be arranged attractively on a side table or on a tea wagon.

If the buffet supper is served from a large dining table, then by all means, have the table attractively decorated with candles and flowers in addition to the silver and china service.

Deviled oysters and mushrooms (chafing dish), cranberry-celery, brown bread sandwiches, anchovy or hard-boiled egg sandwiches, fruit cake, or assorted holiday cookies, elder-grapefruit punch or Russian tea with lemon, cloves and preserves.

Grilled sliced turkey in gravy with asparagus tips (table stove), toasted split cheese rolls, celery sticks stuffed with chopped olives, hot chocolate, lighted angel cake, surprise.

Hot turkey club sandwich, gherkin, cranberry relish, salted and spiced nuts, ginger ale, pineapple punch, individual portions chocolate ice-box cake.

Curried shrimp on toast, minced ham and olive sandwiches, stuffed ham and olive sandwiches, orange-prune and pineapple salad, orange-marshmallow layer cake, coffee, tea, or lemonade punch.

The sandwiches in first menu are made of thin brown bread spread lightly with butter and cran-

CANNED FOODS ALWAYS IN SEASON

Canned Fruits and Vegetables Are as Nourishing as the Fresh Articles.

This is the between season and the time when our tables should be plentifully supplied with fruits and vegetables so that we may make sure that we are getting all the mineral salts, vitamins and cellulose necessary.

Fortunately, the best fruits and vegetables are readily obtainable in the canned variety, however, in this part of the world are not even set out, nor the fruit trees yet in bud.

By means of well-known brands of canned fruits and vegetables the housewife can supply the needs of her family for fruits and vegetables all the year round.

There is really no difference between canned foods and fresh foods cooked in the home. Both are fresh to begin with—and both are cooked before they are eaten. In the canned variety, however, the housewife has the advantage of getting the product whenever she pleases. It is always "in season" right in her pantry shelf—and it saves such preliminary work as shopping, assorting and cleaning.

A good illustration of the dietetic value of canned fruits and vegetables for winter is found in spinach, one of the most beneficial of our greens. It is noted for its rich abundance of iron, phosphorus, calcium and other body-building minerals. It is also highly recommended by doctors and dietitians for its supply of essential vitamins and for its bulk which promotes internal cleanliness.

Other canned fruits and vegetables are equally convenient as fresh, healthful addition to winter meals. Some of the more important varieties are asparagus, peas, string beans, corn, beets, carrots, tomatoes, peaches, pineapple, apricots, pears, cherries, plums and berries. All can be obtained from any good grocery under well-known labels.

The following recipes will suggest several dishes in which canned vegetables are the basic articles of food.

Asparagus Potatoes.
This is a delicious sauce which may be served with broiled steak or chops. To make it turn one can of asparagus into a saucepan and heat, using the liquid in the can. While this is heating, melt two tablespoons butter in a frying pan and add one-half cup soft bread crumbs. Fry until golden brown then add one-half teaspoon salt. Remove from fire, add a chopped, hard cooked egg and pour over tips of asparagus.

Spinach Souffle.
For this nourishing dish drain a can of spinach, turn into a chopping bowl and chop very fine. Melt two level tablespoons butter in a sauce pan. Add two level tablespoons flour; mix until smooth, then place over low fire and cook until thick. Add one-half cup milk and cook, stirring constantly until mixture becomes very thick. Add one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one-half cup grated cheese, the chopped spinach and three well-beaten eggs yolk. Mix together well and then add the three egg whites beaten stiff. Pour into a baking dish. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm in the center. Serve from the baking dish.

Peas and Potatoes.
Buttered peas not only make a palatable dish, but a very good-looking one, too. Turn the canned peas into upper part of a double boiler. Place over hot water. Heat thoroughly. Make a ring of mashed potato on a hot serving plate, leaving space in center for peas. Drain peas, add two teaspoons butter, one-half teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Place in center of ring and sprinkle both potatoes and peas generously with paprika.

Fruit Cobbler.
Apricot, peach or cherry cobbler will be liked by all the family. Drain the fruit, reserving the juice. Turn fruit into a buttered baking dish. For the batter, measure one cup sifted flour, sift again with one level teaspoon baking powder; beat one egg very light; gradually add one-half cup sugar, still using the egg beater. When well mixed, remove egg beater and add flour and one-fourth cup milk; alternate; mix until smooth, then add one teaspoon vanilla flavoring and one-fourth cup melted (not hot) butter. Mix well and pour over fruit. Bake about 10 minutes in a moderate oven, or until batter is baked. Before serving heat the juice, adding one tablespoon each butter and lemon juice.

Seasonable Salad.
Raw carrot, pineapple and fresh coconuts make a salad which can be substituted for the conventional fruit salad. Chop or grate the carrots. Cut the pineapple into pieces. Mix the carrot and pineapple. Sprinkle lightly with salt and a very little sugar. Before serving add the pineapple and a white mayonnaise dressing.

will require 25 minutes of cooking in this fashion. The small amount of water left in pan should be almost siruplike and the butter and salt can be added to it before it is poured over the beets to season them.

Spinach.

Pick over and trim spinach and then dip each plant in water. Rinse after whole is picked over several times. Drop into boiling water for five minutes, rinse with cold water, put to cook in closely covered kettle with no water except what is on from the rinsing. Cook or steam five or six minutes.

A reasonable amount of butter may be put with them. When tender turn with wooden spoon and dry out water.

Browned Potatoes.

Pare six small potatoes, cut in eighths lengthwise, soak in cold water for a few minutes, drain and dry thoroughly. Dip into two tablespoonfuls of melted bacon fat seasoned with half a teaspoonful of prepared mustard, salt and pepper to taste. Bake until tender, about half an hour, in a covered casserole in moderate oven. Uncover and brown before serving, garnished with parsley sprinkled with lemon juice.

Orange Pie.

Take one cup sugar, two tablespoons flour, three tablespoons cornstarch, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one cup water, three eggs, juice of one lemon, three-fourths cup orange juice and grated rind of one orange.

Sift dry ingredients and put in upper part of double boiler. Add boiling water slowly. Cook 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Separate eggs, saving whites for meringue.
Beat yolks slightly, add to mixture and cook one minute.
When cool add juices of lemon and orange and grated rind of orange.
Pour into baked pie shell, cover with meringue made of three egg whites beaten till frothy, sprinkled with one-half teaspoon baking powder and then beaten till stiff.
Cut and fold into stiffly beaten whites, six tablespoons sugar. Place meringue covered pie in hot oven or in bottom of broiler oven to brown one minute.

BEANS USED IN VARIOUS WAYS

Housewives Consider the Possibilities of a Can of Beans.

Attractive and palatable dishes may be made out of canned beans as the basic article follows:

Beans and Onions.
Chop one small onion fine and saute in two tablespoons of bacon drippings. Then add one can of plain baked beans; sprinkle a little salt and a pinch of chili powder. Stir well to blend, let heat thoroughly and serve.

Steamed Baked Beans.
Open can of beans and cook in frying pan or saucepan just long enough to become heated through.
Or the can of brown bread and the can of beans, before being opened, may be put in a large saucepan, covered with water, brought to the boiling point and boiled for 20 minutes.

Baked Bean Salad.
Take one can of beans and strain off all the liquid. Take a stalk of celery, two or three green peppers, a large onion and enough cabbage to make one-half cup when chopped. Shred celery, shred peppers and chop onion fine. Mix beans and other vegetables well and serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise dressing.

Baked Bean Salad No. 2.
Put two cups of baked beans,
Boston style, in a strainer and pour boiling water over them. Cool and then mix with one cup of diced celery, salt and one-eighth teaspoon of paprika. Marinate well in French dressing. Arrange on lettuce leaves and garnish with radish roses. Serve with Russian dressing.

Baked Bean Sandwiches.
Drain the liquid from a can of baked beans. Mash beans with a fork and moisten mashed beans with Chili sauce. Spread mixture between thin slices of buttered bread. Remove crusts and cut sandwiches in halves diagonally.

Original! Genuine! Walker's TEXAS CHILE and TAMALES At Your Grocers

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

WHEN the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock they were obliged to depend on the fowls and streams for much of their food. Wild turkeys and wild pigeons gave them much of their sustenance. Since turkey supplied such a large part of that first Thanksgiving feast, ever since it has been associated with the celebration of Thanksgiving day.

But since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary, chickens and ducks and turkeys have been domesticated, and poultry has supplied a substantial portion of our fare. If all the profits of the United States Steel Corporation were invested in poultry, that immense sum would hardly pay the poultry bill of New York City alone.

Healthy, well raised, decently killed, properly preserved and skillfully cooked poultry is as wholesome and nutritious fare as man can eat. It is one of the best of foods.

Each of us must have a daily supply of protein food. Without it there could be no repair of the broken down and worn-out tissues. There could be no growth.

In one way and another, through vegetable and animal food we get a supply of protein. But the chief means of getting it is through the eating of meat.

We get tired of roast beef and beefsteak, of chops and steaks. We long for a change. There is no better way to get a change than to eat poultry.

It makes no difference what you call for "light meat" or "dark meat." There is no difference in the nutritive contents of the two kinds of meat.

To order poultry two or three times a week is a wise plan. It can be had frozen in the frozen food section. Vary your meals a bit. Do you good. Don't stick to the same old meal, year after year. Surprise your family with a variety of poultry. We may have chicken and turkey in my house very soon.

Take a piece of blatt, four inches square, and roll up in a cup sugar, and dot with butter. Sprinkle with salt and roll up for a cinnamon roll. Cut in one-inch thickness, and fry in shallow pan. Mix fourths cup of vinegar, one cup sugar and pour over rolls. These are delicious for breakfast or Sunday night supper.

AMERICAN OWNED HORSE OUT OF GRAND NATIONAL STEEPELCHASE

JACK HORNER, 1926 WINNER, PULLS UP LAME

But U. S. Will Be Represented by 40-Year-Old Col. Fowler Who Will Ride His Own Horse, Pop Ahead.

LONDON, March 11.—Jack Horner, who won the Grand National Steeplechase a year ago in the colors of A. C. Schwartz, the American sportsman, pulled up lame after his work at Newmarket this morning, and is almost certain to be an absentee from the classic to be run March 25.

Schwartz, who is in this country, is disappointed. Victory a year ago whetted his appetite, and now his colors will not be represented. He had counted on two starters this year, but Barraco, his other entry, went lame and was declared out several days ago. He, nevertheless, will be on hand to cheer the other American entrants.

Col. Harold Fowler, an American, about 40 years old, will ride one of his own horses over the stiff and dangerous course.

So far as can be recalled, Col. Fowler will be the first American amateur to ride in the Grand National, excepting young Robert G. Shaw, son of Lady Astor by her first husband. Fowler is an enthusiastic horseman. He bought Pop Ahead, a 3-year-old gelding, a month ago. His riding weight will be 154 pounds. Pop Ahead is a finished jumper and a good stayer, and there are a few who are looking for Col. Fowler and his mount to bring about a surprise.

Twelve amateurs had mounts among the 30 starters last year, the youngest being only 19 years of age. The oldest was said to be over 40, so that no surprise is felt here over the age of Col. Fowler. Watkinson, later killed in a fall, was 43 when he rode Jack Horner to victory last year in the colors of Mr. Schwartz.

Col. Harold Fowler lives in New Jersey. He is a graduate of Columbia University, where he was president of his class, an athlete and prominent with George H. Bull in amateur theatricals. During the war he was commissioned in the Royal Field Artillery. He was wounded in action and at one time reported dead. Later he became secretary to Ambassador Walter H. Page. Col. Fowler is unmarried. His brother, Arthur Fowler, a partner in the Somerset stable in the United States, married a sister of the wife of William Woodward, a steward of the Jockey Club of New York.

Federal Judge Fred L. Wham on All-Illini Team

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
TERREHARA, Ill., March 11.—Fred L. Wham, newly appointed Federal Judge, are among the 11 men chosen by a volunteer board of critics on an all-time University of Illinois football squad. Coach Bob Zuppke was not one of the critics.

The late Garland "Jake" Stahl, Boston American (1898-1902) first baseman, is the full-back. He played guard while at school but carried the ball as much as a back, as was permitted under the old rules. Pety Clark, who has since gained fame as a coach, is quarterback and Harold Pogue is Grange's running mate at half.

Charles Carney (1918-1921), and Claude R. Schuch (1900-1904) were named the ends; Arthur Pixley (1893-1896) and Fred L. Wham (1905-1908) the tackles; Ralph D. Chapman (1912-14) and James W. McMillen (1921-1923) the guards; and John F. Twist (1908-1910) center.

Roosevelt Plays C. B. C. Quintet In Cage Feature

State Championship Tourney Opens at St. Louis U. Gymnasium.

The Roosevelt Rough Riders, basketball champions of the Public High School League, meet the C. B. C. quintet, runner-up in the preparatory league race, at the St. Louis U. gymnasium tonight in the feature game of the Missouri State High School Athletic Association's district eliminations to determine the St. Louis entrants in the finals at Columbia.

The game is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock and will be preceded by a less important game at 7:30, matching Webster and Chamblade.

The first game today resulted in a 25 to 7 victory for Maplewood over Normandy. In another game Clayton crushed Jennings, 46 to 6. Wellington gained a victory when Beaumont forfeited.

Cleveland, another strong public high school team, meets McBride of the preparatory league at 4 p. m., with University City and Kirkwood ending the afternoon session with a game at 6 o'clock.

WEBSTER WITHDRAWALS FROM COUNTY LEAGUE

Webster High School yesterday announced its withdrawal from the County League, giving as its reason a rule which compels conference members to abide by conference regulations when they play extra-conference contests.

Athletic officials of the school felt that in games played outside the city the Webster teams were hampered by these regulations to such an extent that they were not on an equal footing with their opponents. Webster has been playing in Dayton, O., and Louisville, Ky., and took part in one University of Chicago meet.

As the rules cannot be changed until next fall, Webster has withdrawn and will seek readmission when and if the desired changes are made. Meanwhile Webster will play conference schools under conference rules and elsewhere under the rules prevailing there.

PADDOCK TO TAKE MOVIE ROLE AGAIN

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, March 11.—Charles Paddock once again will desert the cinder path temporarily in favor of the movies.

The starring champion today revealed that he has signed a movie contract which will prevent him from running for nearly a month. Paddock will run for the Los Angeles Athletic Club against the University of California March 19 at Berkeley and then will hang up his spikes until April.

The holder of the world's 100-yard record said that there is a chance of getting five weeks training he hopes to run in the National A. A. U. meet in July.

24 Horses Are Expected to Run in the Coffroth

Race Sunday Expected to Be Worth $90,000 to Victor—Justice F. Works.

By the Associated Press.
SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 11.—Candidates for honors in the Coffroth Handicap, to be run Sunday at the Tiuna track, today launched into short and easy workouts as the racers entered the last stage of their training. The last real preparatory race which the horses will have has been run, and from now on their trainers will devote their time and attention to keeping the racers on edge.

The favorite, Justice F., who won a hard tussle Sunday, was sent over the full Coffroth route, a mile and a quarter, yesterday and made good time in the rather heavy going left by the showers of Wednesday night. He was held, however, at all times by Jockey J. Callahan, who came here from Miami to ride the sturdy racer.

Sir Harry and Wandering Minstrel of the Seagram entry were also sent over the full route, with Wandering Minstrel showing the better form of the two. From this the clockers drew the deduction that he would be entered Sunday.

Officials of the track expect that at least a score of crack horses will face the barrier for the big prize, of which the winner will get about $90,000.

Carlisle, last year's winner, is getting some support among the dopesters.

W. A. A. U. Champ Outpoints Burke

Extra Round Necessary to Decide Bout at Little Rock.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 11.—Dwight Fryer, local amateur boxer and Western A. A. U. light-weight champion, won a clean cut decision over Eddie Burke, St. Louisan, here last night. An extra round was necessary to decide the contest, officials ruling the fight even at the end of the three stanzas.

Fryer shaded the visitor in the first round and the second was a draw. Fryer came out of his corner fight in the third round and appeared to have Burke in a bad way toward the close. Many spectators figured that the local youth should have been given the decision at that point, but the judges ruled otherwise. Fryer gained the fourth-round despite a strong finish by Burke.

WASHINGTON ATHLETES DEPART FOR DES MOINES

Kaiser's Case Is Under Advisement

'Peewee' Reinstatement Considered Likely After He Makes Forfeit Check Good.

It begins to look as if Johnny "Peewee" Kaiser, local featherweight who has been barred from fighting here since last June, will be back again before long.

The Boxing Commission considered his case yesterday and then decided that it would not go into the matter further until Kaiser made good on his forfeit check of $150 for the bout scheduled with Paul Steadman June 21 last. It will be remembered that on this occasion Kaiser declined to go on with the fight, claiming sickness and, on learning of his probable indefinite suspension from the ring, stopped payment on the forfeit check.

Now the commission holds that, in order to show good faith, Kaiser must make good on the check before the board can give full consideration to the matter. Kaiser is ready to give up the $150 and the commission will probably hand down a decision next week. One member stated openly that he favored reinstatement and several others indicated leanings in the same direction.

Even the healthiest men sometimes have aches

Crippling aches quickly relieved by simple home remedy

Freed from the crippling pain of neuritis after having tried various treatments without getting relief, a well-known business man of Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"Following influenza I was seized with a violent attack of neuritis in the right arm and shoulder. I got relief until I tried Sloan's Liniment. The affected arm and shoulder were shortly restored to a healthy condition and all pain and symptoms disappeared."

Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It gets at the cause.

Just put it on gently. At once you feel the increased flow of healing germ-destroying blood right in the spot that hurts. Quickly and surely it reduces swelling and inflammation drives out stiffness, kills pain. Get a bottle. All druggists—85 cents.

Outcome of Coliseum Bout Causes Speculation

Kaiser Meeting—Shaulter Holds Malice Draw—2000 See Show.

By Jack Alexander.

Some were of the mind that Paul would pummel Peewee in the same trouncing manner in which he trounced Kaiser, conceding, of course, that Kaiser's footwork would enable him to prolong the bout for an indefinite number of rounds. Others, including Kaiser himself, held the opinion that Peewee could keep Steadman at arm's length, keep him from the goatee with a right cross that sent him tottering backwards over the middle rope momentarily when, to the delight of all concerned, excepting possibly himself, he did a reverse Jackknife into the laps of the ring-riders.

Steadman Knocks Out Ross in the First Round

Outcome of Coliseum Bout Causes Speculation on Steadman-Kaiser Meeting—Shaulter Holds Malcor to a Draw—2000 See Show.

By Jack Alexander.

After Paul Steadman had knocked Jack Ross of Chicago, kicking through the ropes in the first round of the main bout at the Coliseum last night and the crowd was pushing for the exits, there was much speculation as to what would happen if Steadman and that well-known outcast, Peewee Kaiser, were thrown into the ring together.

Some were of the mind that Paul would pummel Peewee in the same manner in which he terrorized Ross, conceding, of course, that Kaiser's footwork would enable him to prolong the bout for an indefinite number of rounds. Others, including Kaiser, held the opinion that Peewee could keep Steadman at arm's length and whip him, as he did recently, by hitting Morris, who fights very much like Steadman, boring in constantly and whacking away. If the boxing commission, as is held elsewhere in this section, decides that Peewee may fight in St. Louis, the public will undoubtedly give this treat, to which it is entitled.

Some Fast, Like Chief Uncas. Ross, a southpaw, like Chief Uncas, had plenty of early foot and ran away from Steadman for a couple of minutes. Paul finally caught him on the goatee with a right cross that sent him tottering backwards over the middle rope momentarily, when, to the delight of all concerned, excepting possibly himself, he did a reverse jack into the laps of the ring-keepers.

The next best scrap on the card was that between Henry Malcor of Greenville and Kid Shaulter, a

Scott Field boy. Malcor was on the aggressive throughout, but was unable seriously to affect Shaulter, who kept his head well and did a lot of very capable countering. Malcor took the greater part of the punishment in his efforts to get Shaulter at close range, but the Kid was equal to all emergencies. It was the best full length exhibition of the evening and to all appearances a draw.

Ketchel Beaten by Nelson. Young Ketchel displayed lots of courage and a good measure of skill for a youngster of 17, but was not quite equal to the experience of Digger Nelson of East St. Louis, who is reported to have stayed 17 rounds with Jimmy Wilde in London during the war. Nelson admits to 22 years. Nelson had shed a little more kore after six rounds, but Ketchel had taken more of the punishment in the infighting. The crowd was around 2000.

McTigue Likely To Box Loughran

Rickard Seeks to Match Pair for Light-Heavyweight Title Bout.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 11.—Mike McTigue, whose spectacular drive for heavyweight recognition contributed one of the most colorful features of Tex Rickard's elimination series, may have another chance to regain his lost light-heavyweight laurels.

Announcing tentative plans for an indoor match between Mike and Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia on May 13, Rickard today indicated his intention of pitting the winner against Jack Delaney. Expectations are that the title battle, if Rickard completes his program, will be held at Yankee Stadium in June.

Loughran for several months has been clamoring for a title chance while McTigue established himself as a powerful rival by his knockout victory over Paul Berlenbach and his sensational but losing fight against Jack Sharkey.

By Davison Obeas.

One of the men's singles matches in the St. Louis District indoor tennis championship tonight will bring together two former college stars of the game. Wray Brown, former Washington University player, meets Joseph Werner, captain of the 1921 tennis team at Princeton University, on the Washington University Field House court.

Brown and Werner have met a number of times in recent years. While Brown has been the winner the matches have on two occasions been extra set affairs. By winning from Karl Hodge in a third round contest Werner proved himself to be in excellent condition for the match with Brown tonight.

The remaining fourth round match in the men's singles between Herbert Weinstock and Charles McMillin should also be closely contested. This match was postponed from last night. Weinstock is a slight favorite, but he will find McMillin in good form. In a previous round match McMillin defeated William Williams, former Washington University captain.

Another upset took place last night when the team of O. K. Evans and Moore Williams from Farmington, Mo., defeated Ted Drewes and Edmund Serrano, local District champions in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. This was a third round match. While Drewes and Serrano appeared a little off form the visitors played consistent tennis and led during most of the contest.

The semi-final round in the men's singles and doubles and junior singles will be played tomorrow afternoon. Final round matches in the singles events are scheduled for Monday night with the doubles finals set for Tuesday night.

Yesterday's results:

Our Improved Taxi Service—Announcing A Slightly Higher Fare

IN St. LOUIS, today, five can ride as cheaply as one. Our Taxicab Service has been constantly improved... but cost of operation has also been going up. Slightly higher fares are necessary.

In 1926, the Taxi Companies of St. Louis paid about $31,000 in State and City gasoline taxes alone. Their annual cost of meters, to protect the public from overcharges is $45,000 a year. Wages amount to 44 per cent of a driver's daily receipts as against 30 per cent, and under, in other cities; and still, relatively speaking, even the new rates will be lower in St. Louis than in other cities.

A Dime Higher "Flag Pull" is the Only Increase

The 25c rate per mile has not been increased and five still ride as cheaply as one.... but effective today the "flag pull" will be 50c instead of 40c. The increase is only 10c a trip, regardless of the number of passengers, but it is sufficient to maintain the superb Taxicab service now enjoyed by St. Louisans.

Finer Cabs, More Stands Than Ever Before

St. Louis Taxicabs have improved greatly in comfort, appearance and accessibility.

No reasonable person wants to see this service deteriorate when such a slight increase in fares can keep it up to standard. St. Louis Cabs are safe, comfortable and always handy. No other large city has a superior system.

MEMORIES OF JOY.

It is not in the joy of this day alone that we gain what a bliss comes by; but we harvest sweet memories to be our own long after these bright hours die. Oh, the joy of a clasp is a lovely thing in the fashion of dreams come true, but the dearest joy has the swiftness of a wing and this gladness will vanish too. It will pass as the glow of the rainbow pales to leave only the clouds in its wake, drift away like the leaves on the autumn breeze when the dry brown branches shake. But remembered joys are these fleeting days, though the joys themselves are brief, are a treasure store to abide always, glowing green as an April leaf.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

It Happens in the Best Regulated Families.

Scene: The bosom of the family. Time: The morning after the party. Characters: The Husband, who is sitting ready to go to the office; The Wife, who is putting away party things. He: You'd better send my dinner to the tailor's to be pressed before I wear 'em again. She: All right; I'll call him up. He: There anything in the pockets? She: (With complete casualness) Don't think so; but perhaps you'd better look. He: (Hopefully) Once I found it in a suit you asked me to send to the tailor's. She: First I've heard of it. He: Findings, you know. But, that's this! From the right-hand pocket of the dinner coat we pull out a small, shiny, green-enameled, lady's shoe-horn. He: (Staring in amazement) I don't know. How'd that get there? She: (Indifferently) I don't know. And it certainly isn't mine. Do you take up a collection when you go out in the evening? (Pursuing investigation.) The plot thickens. Here's something in the other pocket. From the left-hand side of the coat we extract, a small, gold-plated compact with an ever-enameled in gray-apple lenses; item, a round, flat, gold powder pad, backed with a "useful and ornamental" note. (With dangerous sweetness) To whom do these little trinkets belong? He: (With brown eyes popping out of his head) Good Lord! How did I know? You don't mean you found them in my coat? She: Who put them there? Where did they come from? I never saw them before. I haven't any idea. He: The only thing of which we've got more than innocence is ignorance. She: But you were with me all evening! He: Oh, no, I wasn't. That party was over three floors at the house, and you may remember many times your official duty as president called you to the scene which I wasn't. You had met everybody and see that they were being entertained. Especially the two blonde dancers. One of them left these trinkets. He: (Sighing) They were just because we didn't have the right accompanist, and I did what I could to smooth 'em down. She: (Thoughtfully) They seemed familiar. I've seen both of you when they did their stuff, when they could change seats. And Kenneth, when you sent them out after their act, and that being club president had its advantages. They were awfully pretty and awfully dancers, but, really, dear, were hard-boiled specimens. When, if you want to treasure powder puff, don't let me in— (Sighed beyond endurance) If you know perfectly well I don't think it belongs to me. What do you think of a college boy? Winifred Black Sees Ten Commandments Approved By "The Collected Common Sense of Ages" and Is Skeptical About Substitutes

WINIFRED BLACK

WELL, WELL, WELL! The atheists are sending missionaries to Europe. And all this time we've been saying to ourselves, some of us: "Well, there's one thing about the atheists, they don't try to make people or disbelieve exactly as they do." And now they've fallen from grace. They'll send hands and drummers and red-tinted capes and tambourines? Will they preach in the streets? What on earth will they preach about?

The Everlasting? No, indeed, it is rather a dreary subject. It's easy enough to be eloquent about what you believe, but how can you stir the hearts of men by something you don't believe in? And what are they going to do with their converts? Keep them out of church and out of school and out of the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus and the Christian Endeavors and the Boy Scouts?

It used to be rather exciting to be an atheist. I remember one who lived in the little town where I was born. He was tall and dark and had snow-white hair and he wore a cape instead of an overcoat, and a slouch hat. We children used to run past him like deer—especially if it was somewhere near nightfall. One of my brothers found out it would horrify people if he went to see the atheists, so he used to go every Saturday afternoon. Probably the atheist was bored to death, but we cried a good deal about it, and were very much relieved when the atheist moved to the next town. They said he hadn't paid either his grocery bill or his rent for many months. How could one so rap in lofty thoughts descend to such small matters as bills? It must be rather hard for atheists these days. Nobody pays any attention to them. There are so many religions floating around it's really getting to be difficult to keep up with them all. I wonder what the atheist missionaries are going to say about morals? What are they going to get their Ten Commandments, approved by the collected common sense of the ages? It's just as wrong to steal and murder now as it was when Moses brought the Commandments down from the mountain— isn't it? But maybe the atheists don't admit that Moses ever did bring the Commandments down at all. Well, then, where are they going to get a new set that will be half as good as the old one? We don't need such a lot of new rules for honest living, do we? We know well enough what's right and what's wrong. What we need to know is how to keep the Commandments we already have. I'm going to watch the papers carefully now to see what the atheist missionaries are going to teach. I wonder why they went to Europe? Why didn't they stay in little old New York.

Importance of Vitamin A.

By Jeannette Horton

Of the five vitamin factors known vitamin A was the first to command our attention. Present in milk, butter and eggs, it is of vital importance to the family diet. Especially for children. Of course, the vitamin is present in other foods, in more or less degree, but milk and eggs appear most frequently in the diet of children. Cooked or uncooked, the vitamin is still present. Many mothers find difficulty in making children who do not like milk take as much as they need each day. The problem must be solved by making milk bread, milk soup, milk sauté, rice and milk puddings, and last but, by no means least, by giving the children ice cream. Ice cream, though generally considered as a dessert, becomes a food if the rest of the meal is considered with it in view. The mistake is to eat cake with the cream which makes it too sweet. Considered as a treat, the ice cream may be promised if certain desirable plain foods are eaten first by the child. Even if the stated amount of pocket money and leave it in the office. Make sure of your camp director and then leave the responsibility to him.

gratified by giving the cream in small quantities, even partially melted. Most physicians agree on the subject of ice cream within reason in the sick-room, unless there is some very unusual condition. Sweet rich sauces are not served when the ice cream is used as part of the meal. Other sweetened foods should be avoided when the cream is given in this way. Here is a dish which is very unusual condition. Stew a half-pound of medium-sized prunes without sweetening. When done, cool, remove the stones, chop and moisten slightly with a little of the juice and serve with ice cream.

The Diary of a New Father

Friday night.

WELL, tonight was the big night for Hilda, and her immigrant boy friend, and if it didn't turn out the way Joan planned it, I can't be blamed. I paid for food and entertainment for the prospective fiancé, and I didn't even get a look at him for it. Joan put the baby to bed early and rushed me through dinner, and we were dressed and on our way to the theater before he showed up, and when we came home the party was over. On our way downtown Joan said, "I just hate to tell Hilda she is out of a job, but we can't afford her any more, now that I am able to do all the work. I know the poor girl needs the money, and she isn't a good enough maid to find a new job easily, and she does love the baby so." "I said, 'tell her your mother is coming to visit us again and she will leave of her own accord.' Joan said, 'why aren't you on the stage?' I really don't know what to tell Hilda. She likes being with me so much, and I know how she would miss the baby."

I said, "If your trap for her boy friend works tonight she will have a home of her own pretty soon." Joan said, "Well, just what shall I tell her?" I said, "You certainly worry over the darnedest things. These theater tickets have set me back $6.00 and if you are going to waste $3.00 worrying over how to fire a bum maid, I might just as well have saved the money." Well, we saw the show, which was worth 50 cents of anybody's money, and they are robbers to charge $3.00 a seat, and then Joan made me blow her to some food before we came home. "On the way upstairs Joan said, 'I wonder if we are coming in too early for Hilda and her sweetheart?' and I said, 'Perhaps if I put it to him like a gentleman, he will let me into his own house at midnight.' so we went in and Hilda was alone and Joan said, 'Hello, Hilda, have a good time?' and Hilda said, 'I did not,' and I said, 'What's the matter?' Hilda said, 'That kid of yours. I can be embarrassed as easily as anybody. I guess.' Joan said, 'What happened?' and Hilda said, 'I will tell the world I am through taking care of kids. I can get a factory job.' Joan said, 'What is it, Hilda?' and Hilda said, 'We were sitting here so nice and there was the sweetest song on the radio—all about love and everything—and right in the middle of it that darn brat of yours had to holler. Well I went in and fixed him, and I was embarrassed to death, but even that wasn't enough; he had to keep on crying and I had to pick him up and bring him out here. And my friend didn't have so swell time with a howling baby around. I'm through being a nurse. I will say I am.' and so Joan doesn't have to fire Hilda after all, because Hilda has quit.

Developing Thin Arms

By Lucrezia Bori

A WELL-ROUNDED contour of the arms is particularly desirable when wearing a sleeveless frock, for arms that are too thin often give a gangling, awkward appearance to an otherwise pleasing figure. The following exercise will develop the arms within a surprising short time if taken each day. The correct standing position should be assumed first, so come to attention with the head up, the shoulders back, chest raised, torso stretched to its full height, arms hanging relaxed at the sides, heels about two inches apart and the toes pointing straight ahead. Next, stretch the arms out in front of the body with the palms of the hands turned up. Then clench the hands tightly, bend the elbows and draw the hands backward until they rest on the tips of the shoulders. Push the arms high up over the head, keeping the hands clenched. Then lower them until the hands touch the shoulders, stretch the arms out in front of the chest again, bend the elbows and draw the arms back until the hands touch the shoulders, draw the arms at the sides, bend the elbows until the fists rest on shoulder tips again.

The exercise should be done very rapidly to the count of eight; count 1—arms out in front of the chest, 2—hands on shoulders, 3—up over head, 4—back to shoulders, 5—out in front of chest, 6—back to shoulders, 7—down at sides, 8—back to shoulders. Repeat 10 times. Cocoa butter massaged into the arms each night will help to make them plump. And remember, that what is revealed should be perfect else it had far better be concealed! Silver Threads. NEW YORK.—Silver threads among the gold are old fashioned but silver and gold threads among the greys and browns are the height of fashion—when it comes to the tailored suits. The new fabrics are flecked or mottled with gold, silver or copper which blend wonderfully with the soft tones of the woolen yarns. Suits have again been subdivided. Now they are referred to as softly tailored, arms strictly tailored. The weight of the wearer determines the type chosen.

What Girls In Paris Do

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I make yearly trips to France, and have done so for many years. Just to find the best aids to beauty and to youth. There many able scientists give their lives to beauty study. And their results are known everywhere. I am trying to bring to America the best ideas they develop. I want them for myself and for you. One of the best ideas I found there is a way to clean the skin. It is a liquid which contains no animal, no vegetable grease. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. It simply penetrates the pores to the depths, then departs. When you wipe it off, all the grime, all that clogs the skin comes with it. This is what I use to clean my face skin as girls do in Paris. I never use soap and water. Results are astounding. When you learn them you will always do as I do. I urge you to try it. Take from your face skin all the hardened oil, dead skin and waste, and see the results. All toilet counters sell Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth at 75c. Or the coupon will bring you a sample bottle with my Beauty Book. Try this facial cleanser. You will never know what a clean skin means until you do that.

Milton Work's Bridge Pointers

YESTERDAY this article contained the Contract count adopted by the Racquet Club of New York and in general use in that city. Today we give a more recent count adopted by the Knickerbocker Whist Club of New York and rapidly growing in favor.

Trick values are the same as in Bridge: Clubs 6, Diamonds 7, Hearts 8, Spades 9, No Trumps 10. Game as in Bridge, 30 points. Of course, there is the Contract provision that only the number of tricks both bid and made are scored in the trick column.

Four honors in one hand count 100, five honors in one hand 150, four Aces in one hand 150. (No other honor scores.)

The premium for winning a game is 200, and for winning the rubber (in addition to the 200 rubber-game premium) 300.

For making the contract: If undoubled, nothing; if doubled, when not vulnerable, 50; if doubled, when vulnerable, 100. Redoubling doubles these values.

For overtricks (extra tricks in excess of bid): when not vulnerable, if undoubled, 50; if doubled, 100; if redoubled, 200. When vulnerable, these values are doubled. Slams bid and made: Little Slam, when not vulnerable, 500; when vulnerable, 750. Grand Slam, when not vulnerable, 1000; when vulnerable, 1500.

If Declarer fails to fulfill his contract, he scores nothing whatever except honors, if held, and the opponents score for undertricks as follows: when not vulnerable, if undoubled, for each undertrick 50; if doubled, for each of the first three undertricks 100, for fourth undertrick 200, for all subsequent undertricks (each) 400; if redoubled, for first three undertricks (each) 200, for fourth undertrick 400, for all subsequent undertricks (each) 800.

For failure to fulfill contract, when vulnerable, if undoubled, for each undertrick 100; if doubled, for first three undertricks (each) 200, for fourth undertrick 400, for all subsequent undertricks (each) 800. If redoubled, for first three undertricks (each) 400, for fourth undertrick 800, for all subsequent undertricks (each) 1600.

The Revoked Penalty: Two tricks for the first revoke; for each subsequent revoke, regardless of whether it be made in the same or in another suit, 100 points in the honor column.

Tomorrow the main differences between the two popular counts will be noted.

Rule 1

Do this nightly if "That School-girl Complexion" is your aim

By NORMA SHEARER

FAMOUS beauty experts, both in Europe and America, now urge simple cleanliness—soap and water—as the first rule in skin care.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. This is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made of cosmetic oils. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Use this way regularly, and particularly before bed. Use powder, rouge, make-up all you wish. But never leave them on the skin over night. Note, then, how much better your skin in even one week.

GET REAL PALMOLIVE. Get Palmolive today. Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. But be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude materials represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and TAKE CARE. The Palmolive-Pet Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

CHAPTER 35.

"D EAREST," and Angel Fair smoothed the short, ruffled locks, "don't mind that horrid woman. I don't wonder she sets on your nerves. Forget her; she isn't worth worrying about."

"I know it," Madeline Barron said, raising her head a little. "I know it—b-b-but oh, Angel, I wish she'd go away from here—or else that w-w-we could."

"She won't go—you couldn't expect that. But we can all go. Ned will say yes to that in a minute if you ask him."

"I know it—bless his dear old darling heart. But he loves it here. Oh, Angel, I am so miserable."

"Why, Maddy, dear," and the girl was truly puzzled, "what is it? You can't be so deeply affected by that man's death—a stranger to you—"

"I know. No, it isn't that—oh, never mind, Angel. Don't let's discuss it. Just help me pull myself together and get into shape."

Angel brushed her friend's hair and brought her makeup box and a fresh handkerchief and soon a transformation had been wrought that resulted in a very lovely and serene Mrs. Ned Barron who went downstairs again ready for her luncheon.

Dan Pelton crossed the room and paused at the table where Carmelita and Mrs. Barnaby sat with Roger Neville.

"Got today," he said, taking the fourth chair. "My adorable aunt has gone off with friends, and I'm a walf and a stray."

Even as he seated himself he saw Madeline Barron enter the dining room and join her own group of friends.

"Yes, she is lovely," said Carmelita, intercepting his glance, "but you're not to concentrate on her. We're here."

"Very much here," insisted the Duchess, gaily. "It's a strange thing, as soon as a man is in the company of two of the most beautiful women in the place, his attention immediately wanders to some other woman."

"For an instant only," and Pelton laughed as he devoted himself to his companions.

It was not long before the talk drifted to the Folsom case.

"But perhaps the subject bores or pains you," said Dan, as he and Neville began to discuss it.

"No," she returned, smiling faintly, "not if you don't keep it up too long."

"Just a minute. You see, Mr. Neville, it's this way. The police people and, well, some others are beginning to whisper the name of Croymond Sears in connection with the taking off of my uncle. Oh, I know that's putting it rather baldly, but like my revered aunt, I usually call it a spade a spade. Or, at least, some other folks are doing so. Now, Mr. Riggs tells me that you assured him that so far as you know Sears had no dealings with my uncle, save one or two of the merest business transactions, that could by no possibility have had any reason to cause ill-feeling between the two men."

"You are putting the statement a trifle too strong, Mr. Pelton, but I believe Mr. Riggs and I did have a slight conversation on the subject of C. R. S."

"Didn't you give the assurance I spoke of?"

"Not assurance, no. How could I? There may have been all sorts of connections between those two men of which I knew nothing."

"Weren't you Uncle Garry's partner?"

"In some of his business pursuits. Yes. In others, no. Mr. Folsom was a man of many lines of activity."

"So I am finding out," Dan Pelton looked gravely serious. "And I'm asking you now, as man to man, if you did know of any—I will be plain—of any secret shared by my uncle and Mr. Sears that might at any time in their lives have caused unfriendliness between them?"

"It's palpably evident," Roger Neville said slowly. "That you have somehow learned that your late uncle did share secrets with some of his clients—that might in certain circumstances cause unfriendliness—"

"Or more."

"Or more. Such things are not entirely unknown in lawyers' relationships, but it is often unwise to place too much stress on them. I am quite sure Mr. Sears could have had no secret, shared by Mr. Folsom, that would or possibly could have brought about the tragedy that took place."

"You can't be sure of that, Roger," Carmelita Valdon exclaimed. "No one can say for sure who did or didn't or could or couldn't be implicated in that affair."

"Of course not," said the Duchess vaguely, for she had a sudden feeling that she was being left out of the conversation. "Why, for all these men know, you or I might have killed the man, Carmy."

"Don't talk rot!" Carmelita cried, with a reproving glare at her friend.

"Isn't rot," the Duchess returned placidly. "At least it may be for me, for I'm sure I couldn't let go of the rope even with one hand to make that stab. But you could, Carmy, you're so brave in the water."

Carmelita gave the speaker a sudden glance of withering anger, and then as suddenly broke into a smile.

"You're too absurd, Helen!" she said. "I am brave enough for anything, but I couldn't stab a man in the ocean without being seen by those near me—if they were all as lynx-eyed as you, dear. You can swear I didn't do it, can't you?"

"Oh, Lord, honey, I didn't mean you did it. I only meant—"

"What you meant," and Dan Pelton laughed at the bewildered look on the Duchess' round pink face. "Well, all I'm asking of you, Neville, is whether you can suggest a motive for Croymond Sears, or whether you can't."

"I can't," said Roger Neville shortly, but his harassed eyes seemed to belie the frankness of his assertion.

"I suppose you know it's your duty to tell anything you can."

"Yes, but it's not my duty to surmise or imagine. I do know that Folsom had certain dealings or business with Sears that neither side wanted to make public, and that's all I can say about it."

"You'll say more if the authorities ask you."

"I haven't asked yet," said Roger Neville.

Lacking the initiative that had led Tite Riggs to investigate for himself the possibilities or probabilities of Sears' connection with the Folsom case, Dan Pelton put the matter from his mind and devoted his afternoon to golf.

He was not on the deck when a tall, dark-eyed man appeared there and immediately made himself at home in a certain pleasant corner, which Robin Sears had held against other would-be occupants for this very purpose.

Secluded corners of the deck of the Hotel Majusca were greatly liked by individuals or small groups who wished to be alone, and when at last Croymond Sears and his guest arrived, Robin Sears was relieved, for he had been the target for envious glances from those who considered him selfishly inclined.

He had met Stone before, though not recently, and he looked with interest at the grave-faced, quietly moving man, whose eyes, however, darted about everywhere and took in everything.

The Beauty Shop

By Frances Olivier

S HE wore a drawn, pained look and she had a walking-on-egg-kait, so it was no great strain on the brain to diagnose her problem.

VISITOR—I suppose there is no earthly use in my continuing with wrinkle creams until I get at the cause of the wrinkles. You see, I am cursed with a pair of feet which, after a five-minute walk, make me long to lift them up and put them in my handbag. Corns, bunions, callouses, in fact all the ills that feet are heir to I suffer from. I know you are not a chiropodist but I thought you might give me some good advice from the viewpoint of beauty.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST—Did it ever occur to you that the beauty of your feet is quite as important as the beauty of your face?

Oh, the sins that are committed against the feet, the shoes that twist and gnarl them, the too thin shoes that offer no protection and force the foot to grow its own protection in the form of callouses. Then there are the short shoes that throw the big toes out of joint, encouraging bunions, and the too narrow shoes that twist all the toes out of line and sow the seeds of corns.

For feet that are naturally tender and rebel at long walks, a simple and most beneficial way of conditioning them is to soak them for five minutes in a bath of quite cold water before taking them out for their needed exercise. A sponge bath with vinegar will be found a very soothing corrective.

I shall give you, too, a few simple remedies for corns, should you prefer to care for them yourself. One is, cut off a small piece of lemon, nick it, then tie it firmly around the corn. Two or three applications will soften the corn so that its removal can be accomplished in a few seconds. For more stubborn corns than the average, mix two drachms of muriatic acid with six drachms of rose water. Night and morning for three days soak the corn with this mixture. Every evening the feet should be immersed in warm water without soap. Put one-third of the acid in the water and the corn will very soon disappear.

LEGAL INFORMATION
(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

A. B. — Chinese and Japanese people are excluded from the United States by the Immigration Act of 1924. You can get a marriage license in St. Louis and use it in Louisiana, but you cannot use it in the State of Louisiana.

D. A. R. — If you agreed to pay $100 commission on the second of a final set, you can be compelled to pay it.

P. D. Reader. — You can look up the old will in the records at the Office of the Probate Court Clerk, Courthouse, Fourth and Market streets.

A. G. — You might still be held responsible, in spite of a contract with your passengers for the ride, if you were riding at their own risk.

Mrs. R. R. — You should inquire at the Pure Food and Drugs Office, Old Custom House, Third and Olive streets about the remedy you desire to sell.

ANXIOUS ONE. — The first marriage may have been legal, but surely not. The wife, however, should have had it annulled before she married again. She probably would not be prosecuted for bigamy, under the circumstances, but she should have the first marriage annulled, and the remedy her present husband.

INNOCENT. — The second wife may claim a child's share in her husband's estate, whether he makes a will or not. If his children are not named in the will, the wife would not get any of the inheritance. The husband's estate would not get one-half the estate but one of the insurance.

MEDICAL QUESTION
Health and sanitation questions of public interest are given special consideration. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases is not given.

A MOTHER. — Our advice is that you provide yourself with some book or books on child care which will not only answer directly the questions you ask but be a constant source of information and guidance. A book "Child Care" by Mrs. Max West will be furnished free if you write to the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C. Other such books may be obtained in any book store.

M. A. L. — It is not within the scope of the Post-Dispatch to advise or comment on the merits of a candidate for public office.

Go choose the place that you love best!
Right here's a dandy place to light.
So come on, Cal, we'll treat you right.
Down to the river you can go
And watch the Mississippi flow;
We'll feed you up on buckwheat cakes,
And take you out to see our snakes.

And let you cross our bridges free;
A lesson in absorbing shocks,
We'll give you on our wooden blocks.

WOMAN ROBBER HOLDS UP CAFE
AND 2 GROCERIES

Handles Revolver While Young Man Companion Takes $134, Cigarettes and Pork Chops.

WORE DIFFERENT HAT EACH TIME

Described as Between 25 and 30 Years Old—Woman Customer Saves
Purse.

A young woman robber who smokes cigarettes and changes her hats between jobs held up two cafes and a restaurant early today, assisted by a young man who did nothing but obey her orders. They got $134 in all.

John Haranjas, cook in a restaurant at 208 North Grand boulevard, smiled when the young woman walked into his kitchen at 2:15
p. m. and asked, "Can I get a cup of coffee?" Haranjas recalls that she was wearing a blue hat and a light spring coat; that her eyes were blue, her complexion blond and her features comely.

"You certainly can have coffee," said Haranjas.

Before he reached the coffee urn
she had pointed a revolver at him.
"Lie down," she commanded, then, motioning to a man who came in at this juncture, she said, "Search around for the money."

Cigarettes for Both.

Her companion searched and she required, "How much have you found?" He replied, "Not much."

She said, "Look some more." He searched more money in a cigar box lying on the counter, collecting $39 in all.

"Get me some Piedmonts," the woman robber commanded, "and take some of the kind you like."
She took two cartons of cigarettes and they ran out the door. They stepped in a car described as a new Emex coach.

Their second appearance was at 8:15 a. m., when they held up Edward Grosscupp, butcher in a grocery store at 319 North Garrison street. As in the first holdup, the young woman preceded her companion, entering as a customer.

"I want some pork chops," she said, "and I want them from the underlin."

A Brown Hat This Time.

Grosscupp turned to put out the meat. She drew her revolver and told him to lie down. Then she called to her confederate, who took from Grosscupp's pocket and $2000 the cash register.

"We'll need some pork chops," said the woman suggested.

Her assistant lifted a heavy rack of pork, valued at $10, from the butcher's hook, and they departed in the blue automobile.

Grosscupp says he distinctly remembers that the young woman was on a brown hat.

A chain grocery store at 2316 Main street was the scene of the third holdup at 8 a. m. The young woman entered with revolver and cash, and the others heard her customer's confederate enter and took from her hands the ordered Henry Hagerbrock, 1722 A Palm street, the manager.

He led the way to the back room, leaving that Mrs. Emily Gerdel, 1541 S. Coleman street, one of the women customers, had laid her purse on her market basket, she said.

"Bring your purse with you," Mrs. Gerdel said.

"Unable to Find Purse."

Mrs. Gerdel, however, tossed the purse behind the counter and followed the others into the back room. When all five were lined up and shut off from view by passers-by on the street, the young woman turned to her companion outside:
"Come on in and get the register."

Hagerbrock and the others heard the woman's confederate enter and took the cash register. He took it, turning on Mrs. Gerdel, the woman robber said: "Where is your purse? I told you to bring it in with you."

"I left it on the basket," Mrs.
Gerdel said.

"All right, I'll get it as I go out."

Still menacing them with the revolver she backed from the rear and joined her companion. She did not find Mrs. Gerdel's purse, which contained a few dollars.

Mrs. Gerdel and the other women and the young woman were wearing brown cloaks with red hair braids and that her age was between 25 or 30.
